

Nationalization Of Oil Voted By Iran

Parliament Ignores British Note Of Protest Claiming Pact Stands

TEHRAN, Iran (UP)—The Iranian Parliament voted unanimously today to nationalize the nation's British-owned oil industry, one of the main sources of petroleum for the Western Powers.

All-106 deputies attending the Majlis (Parliament) session voted for government seizure of the $58,000,000 Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, which controls all Iran's oil wells and sells their output only to Western and pro-Western nations.

PREMIER HUSSEIN ALA

Russia and all pro-Soviet factions in Iran significantly supported the nationalization measure. Iran produces about 24 per cent of the world's annual oil output.

The Majlis brushed aside a British protest note delivered only Wednesday to Premier Hussein Ala contending that the Anglo-Iranian concern could not be nationalized by Iranian action alone. It said the company's contract ran until 1933.

MOVE CHEERED

More than 2,000 persons outside the Majlis loudly cheered the unanimous vote and carried deputies about on their shoulders.

Word of the vote spread quickly through the capital and people ran along streets shouting:

"Our oil is nationalized!" Police did not interfere, although Wednesday they had banned demonstrations following reports that Communists planned a march on the capital in support of the nationalization measure.

SPURRED BY SLAYING

Deputies of the powerful government opposition, the National Front, also have been increasingly militant on the subject since the assassination March 7 of Premier Ali Razmara, who opposed nationalization.

The assassin belonged to the fanatical religious sect (Crusaders of Islam). Its newspaper, Nabard Mellat, demanded today that Ala resign because he signed the 1933 agreement with Anglo-Iranians.

Two amendments also were adopted. The first called for a two-month study of methods of nationalization before the new law takes effect. The second calls for the employment of foreign experts to help in the study.

Moscow May Plan To Raise Iron Curtain

WASHINGTON (UP)—Moscow may be planning to allow limited travel into the Soviet Union.

But if the Iron Curtain is to be raised even a little, officials were warning today that travel would be on a modest scale to a few selected areas under tight supervision of security police. Tourists presumably would be carefully screened to make certain of their Communist allegiance.

Viet Nams Beaten

SAIGON (UP)—French forces hurled back a Communist attack near Hue, northern Indo-China, killing 480 Viet Minh rebels and taking 110 prisoners in a sharp, two-day battle, it was announced today.

HOUSE TO SIT TONIGHT ON HOSPITAL LEVY

Sitting of the Legislature on the contentious question of hospital insurance is scheduled this evening, it was learned this afternoon.

It is understood the government intends to thrash out amendments to the H.S. Act allowing a $9 increase in premiums and will attempt to pass the legislation immediately so that the insurance service can set up the machinery necessary for scheduled billing under the new rates.

It will be the first night sitting of the House this session. Public galleries are expected to be crowded.

Locate Shawnigan Boy In Royal City

VANCOUVER (CP)—R.C.M.P. reported today a 14-year-old boy, Allan Thomas Rutan, missing from his home at Shawnigan Lake, B.C., since last Thursday, has been located in New Westminster.

Police said the boy is returning to his Vancouver Island home, but further details were lacking.

Hongchon Falls To Allied Troops; Chuncheon Now Principal Objective

TOKYO (AP)—American assault troops rode tanks across the Hongchon River today and found that once Korean city of 15,000 inhabitants leveled.

Only five civilians and a mangled white horse greeted the Yanks. There was only a flurry of light arms fire when Americans entered. But later mortar fire splashed into the city. Hongchon, at a vital junction 20 miles south of Parallel 38, has been a major supply center for at least one Chinese army in recent days.

Meanwhile, although the main Communist garrison quit the flanked city of Seoul in the general Red retreat all across Korea, Korean civilians said the bomb-blasted, fire-blackened and booby-trapped city still held a few Communist troops disguised in civilian clothing.

Of the normal 1,500,000 population, only about 200,000 remained to greet the returning South Korean and American troops.

East of Seoul, tanked Allied columns ground slowly and steadily toward strategic Chuncheon, the Reds' last chance for a foothold in South Korea.

At points along the advancing Allied line, U.N. units were less than 15 miles from Parallel 38, once the dividing line between Communist North and Republic South Korea.

WEEK'S U.S. LOSSES 2,201

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U.S. casualties in Korea increased 2,201 from a total a week ago of 54,649. The cumulative summary through March 9 listed 8,101 killed in action, 36,108 wounded and 10,440 missing in action.

The wounded total includes 937 who later died. Also 85 missing are known dead, raising total deaths to 9,123.

Three Children Die

FLIN FLON, Man. (CP)—Three small children burned to death in their home today.

Their mother, Mrs. Kay Torneup, was across the street at a grocery store when she saw her log home burning. Unable to get through the flames which blocked the doorway, she smashed a window and cut her arm badly in an unsuccessful effort to reach the children.

KOREA TROOPS GET ALE GIFT

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A gift of 3,400 cases of ale for Canadian troops in Korea was being loaded on two railway boxcars today at a Labatt's Brewery.

Plans call for moving the ale to Korea aboard the troopship that will take the rest of Canada's special force across the Pacific Ocean next month.

Inquiry Into Oakalla Conditions

Attorney-General Gordon Wisner has ordered the three-man provincial jail commission to conduct an immediate inquiry into reports that drugs are being smuggled into Oakalla Prison and that younger prisoners had been approached for immoral purposes by older prisoners.

The action followed statements by two Victoria youths, Thomas Allan Lancaster, 15, and Robert Renton Leon Dunbar, 17, during an appeal in Vancouver against a two-year sentence for burglary and possession of a loaded gun in Nanaimo.

The jail commission, made up of Col. Eric Pepler, deputy attorney-general; Dr. C. W. Toppling of U.B.C. and E. G. B. Stevens, provincial probation officer, likely will submit a report on the matter next week.

Youthful offenders usually are segregated from the older prisoners.

Pair Plead Guilty To Hold-Up Attempt

Two Others Admit Drug Possession

Two of three men involved in the attempted Douglas Street Safeway hold-up on Saturday and two others charged in a narcotics case pleaded guilty in city court today before Magistrate Henry Hall.

John Benson, 26, and Wallace Stevenson, 29, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted armed robbery of Alfred Ockwell, manager of the Safeway Store. They will appear as Crown witnesses against Arthur Billett, third man charged in the unsuccessful holdup.

Donald F. Swan, 18, and Garnet George Marks, alias Garnet Marcie, 29, both of Vancouver, entered pleas of guilty to a joint charge of illegal possession of a quantity of heroin.

Detective Alex Briggs told the court the pair had 41 capsules of the drug in a Westholme Hotel room.

Magistrate Hall remanded all to Tuesday for sentence. He asked for a probation officer's report on Benson and Stevenson. Billett, who has elected higher court trial will appear for preliminary the same day.

Swan's previous record included a car theft and armed robbery for which he served prison terms. Marks' record included a three-year jail term for living on the avails of prostitution, court was told.

Arthur P. Dawe appeared as counsel for both in the drug case. He said Marks was one of the unfortunates who was a user of drugs. Counsel asked for leniency for the younger Swan, typing him as "one of those young men who has never had a chance since boyhood."

Sell Butter At New Price

A number of Victoria stores are selling butter today at the new price of 83 and 84 cents per pound as a result of the wholesale price increase Wednesday of from 60 to 79 cents per pound.

"I think today will dry it up," one retailer said this morning. "A few of us are still selling at 62 and 63 cents, but by tomorrow the higher price will be pretty general."

One large downtown store was selling butter a few days ago in 10 and 15-pound lots. It then reduced each purchase to three pounds, and now limits butter buying to one pound per customer.

"If a stranger comes in and asks for just butter, I haven't got any," another independent retailer said today.

It was believed at one time that the present price, caused by a seasonal shortage, would drop when prairie producers reach full production in a month or six weeks, but one local wholesaler believes the high price is here to stay.

PET-POISONER ACTIVE IN FERNWOOD RD. AREA

S.P.C.A. today issued a warning to all pet-owners living in the Fernwood Road area to be on guard against their household animals being poisoned.

During the last 10 days, S.P.C.A. has been notified of three dogs having died from poisoning.

Two of the dogs were found in the area close to the intersection of Fernwood and Bay and the other located at the Fort Street end of Fernwood.

"There is no doubt the dogs were deliberately poisoned," an S.P.C.A. official reported today. "It would be wise for all dog owners in that district to be on the lookout."

Bandits Loot Montreal Bank Of Over $10,000

MONTREAL (CP)—Two armed men held up a north end branch of the Banque Provinciale du Canada early today and escaped with between $10,000 and $14,000.

Bank manager J. L. Turcotte said the two men wore "dirty hankies" over their faces, leaving only their eyes uncovered. They ordered the seven employees and two customers into the vault.

However, seconds later they made them come out again and lie on the floor. While one of the bandits covered them with his gun, the other "cleaned out" two wickets.

The cash scooped up by the two men "trampled over the nine men and women on the floor" and left quickly. No one was hurt.

The amount of the loot has not been confirmed yet, but bank officials said it was a "rough estimate."

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

BUDGET AND GLADSTONE

ANYONE who has ever listened to a Budget speech in the Legislature—or in any other Parliament for that matter—must realize that it is a test of endurance for the responsible Minister. Even an ordinary speech imposes a strain upon a speaker, but when it comes to a lengthy exposition involving masses of figures and many millions of dollars, the strain is very much greater, both in the physical and mental sense.

And as I listened to the Minister of Finance delivering his address in the House on Tuesday, and watched the Minister drinking copious draughts of water, my mind went back to something I recently read about William Ewart Gladstone, the great Liberal Prime Minister of Britain.

ORATORICAL ACHIEVEMENT

IN 1880, when Gladstone was Chancellor of the Exchequer, his Budget speech took him four hours to deliver and was acclaimed as an oratorical achievement. A note in his Diary in reference to this particular speech disclosed the nature of the refreshment from which he obtained sustenance in the great mental and physical strain it entailed. He writes:

"Spoke from 5 to 9 p.m. without great exhaustion, aided by a large stock of egg and wine. Thank God! Home at 11. This was the most arduous operation I have ever had in Parliament."

POMATUM POT

MICHAEL MACDONAGH, the author of "The Pageant of Parliament," claims to have often seen the curious vessel in which Gladstone carried his favorite refreshment of an egg beaten up in sherry. It was a short but wide jar of the kind in which hair pomatum or oil are sold. Producing it from the inside pocket of his frock coat, he would place it on his table beside the dispatch box containing his notes.

Then, on rising to make his speech, he "would resort perhaps three or four times during the oration to this old pomatum pot—thus turned to a strange and mighty use—for the glow and ardor which his voice, so lubricated, gave to his flowing periods."

CHURCHILL ECHO

THAT REFERENCE also brought back a memory of the visit here, during the Prohibition era soon after the end of World War One, of Winston Churchill, when he addressed a joint meeting of the local Canadian Clubs. I happened to be seated next his son, Randolph, at the head table, and was greatly amused at the libations passed by him—in a hotel coffee cup—to his distinguished father, to help the great statesman through that particular speaking ordeal.

While our Canadian Ministers rely on water to get them through their speeches, many a British statesman of the past has resorted to something stronger, according to Mr. Macdonagh. "Disraeli made no secret of the fact that it was brandy and soda that fortified him on Budget nights. Goschen, another great Chancellor, used to introduce his Budgets on port."

INCOME TAX ECHO

APROPOS of Gladstone's Budget speech of 1860, it is interesting to recall that in that particular Budget the "Grand Old Man" extended the income tax to Ireland for the first time, and provided that the imposition of the tax over the United Kingdom should be limited to a period of seven years.

For two years it was to be sevenpence in the pound; for two years more it was to be sixpence; for the remaining three years fivepence, and after that the tax was never to be heard of again! In the light of what the British people are paying today, this is a classic example of the futility of prognostication in political affairs, particularly those relating to taxes.

GRADUATES IN MAY

Deaf Pianist's Chopin Brings House Down

DENVER (UP)—The pretty girl sat at the piano and brought from it a rendition of Chopin's waltz, Opus 42, that brought down the house.

But 20-year-old Yvette Marie Schaded couldn't hear her beautiful music or the outburst of applause.

Yvette has been deaf since an attack of measles when she was six. Her music teacher, Sister Teresa Marie, gently shoved Yvette back on the stage so that she could take her vows, and the crowd wanted more.

Yvette was the star of the college concert before an overflowing crowd at Loretto Heights College. She will graduate in music in May.

College has been hard for the spunky Texas co-ed. She reads lips in lectures and is able to speak normally. But in large classrooms she has had to get her lessons from other students' notes.

Despite that Yvette will be graduated with a grade average of "B."

Yvette says she doesn't know just what she will do after graduation.

Gift Of Million

MONTREAL (CP)—A $1,000,000 gift from J. W. McConnell, president of the Montreal Star, for extension and reorganization of the Montreal Neurological Institute was announced today by Dr. F. Cyril James, principal of McGill University.

The gift will be used to build a new wing to the present building. Total cost of the project will be $1,750,000 of which Dominion and provincial governments already have appropriated $750,000.

Soldier Incensed By Red Pamphlet

Takes Issue With Teen-Ager Distributor Outside Theatre

By JIM McKEACHIE

A soldier with two rows of ribbons on his tunic stood on the corner of Yates and Blanshard Streets last evening looking at a pamphlet just handed him by a young man who appeared to be in his late teens.

The soldier scanned the mimeographed pamphlet, burst forth with a number of long-standing barrack-room oaths, walked straight over to the young civilian and thrust the paper back into his hand and, incensed at what he had seen, and strode away.

That is just one example of the way Victorians are treating members of Victoria's National Federation of Labor Youth branch—the group with a lot of idealistic aims which disseminates material that is straight down the Communist party line.

PROTEST WAR STORY

Outside the Capitol Theatre last night, the young man and a young lady—a Victoria College student—were giving out the pamphlets which have been handed to theatre patrons all week. They urge citizens to protest screening of the film "The Steel Helmet," a Korean war story.

The young people declined to give their names.

They said they did not mind the publicity their organization was getting, even though it was not all favorable.

"Just so long as you get some of that old stuff into print?" I asked, referring to their red-tinted material.

"Yes—the good old stuff," was the lad's reply.

The talkative young lady objected to a Victoria Times story which said N.F.L.Y. members were being exploited by Communist elements.

"We are not pawns," she insisted, adding, "I saw this picture ('The Steel Helmet') and the stuff in it about a conscientious objector is some of the loudest propaganda I've ever seen."

Meanwhile, Victoria College student Archie McGugan, 1519 Oakland Avenue, chairman of the local N.F.L.Y. branch, replied to comments by Mayor Percy George and city aldermen as to "who are these people?"

"If Mayor George hasn't heard anything of us in the past, he is going to hear more of us in the future. We'll try and remedy that defect," he said.

McGugan said his organization was a youth group opposed to conscription and war propaganda, "like the Junior Chamber of Commerce."

WAR LOSSES MAY CAUSE CHINA TO ABANDON TIBET INVASION

HONGKONG (UP)—The Chinese Communists have been forced to abandon their six-month-old military campaign against Tibet because of the tremendous losses inflicted by United Nations forces in Korea, a well-placed Chinese source said today.

The Chinese, recently arrived from South China, said the Red plan to conquer Tibet now is a failure and the Peking regime is placing its hopes for seizing control of the mountain country in political strategy, intimidation and boring from within.

Two Women, Child Die In Michigan Train Wreck

DETROIT (AP)—Two women and the infant child of one were killed in a train wreck just west of here last night and more than 30 persons were injured. Five cars of a Cincinnati-bound New York Central passenger train left the rails in suburban Trenton as the train felt its way through fog and snow. No Canadians were aboard. The victims included a Michigan State College student's wife and child. Early today the body of the second woman was still unidentified.

Crushed to death in one overturned coach were Mrs. Grace Allen, 25, East Lansing, Mich., and her year-old baby, Janet. The young husband, R. S. Allen, was slightly injured. Rescuers and wreckers worked for hours in the glare of searchlights playing over upset and tilted cars. Two cars lay on their sides. Three others, including a baggage car, were off the rails. The jumble was in the shape of huge "U."

A fleet of ambulances raced with the injured to a hospital in neighboring Wyandotte. Crews of rescuers worked in the mud and muck left from two days of rain, sleet and snow. The train, which left Detroit at 11:30 p.m. E.S.T., was to have hooked two of its cars into the N.Y.C.'s Florida resort, Royal Palm, at Cincinnati this morning.

State police said the train apparently hit a split rail or open switch in the heart of the town. Two of the train's coaches toppled over. Police reported the train apparently was not traveling fast.

Heavy Fighting Yet To Come In Korea

No Basis For Hope Reds Ready To Settle On Acceptable Terms Now

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—As far as official Washington can judge there is still a lot of hard fighting ahead in Korea. The Chinese Communists have not yet taken sufficient punishment to show any interest in making an acceptable political settlement.

F.B.I. Arrests Professor In Atom Spy Hunt

NEW YORK (UP)—F.B.I. agents jailed today a 32-year-old Columbia University instructor charged with being the 10th American connected with the Gold-Fuchs Russian atomic spy ring.

William Perl, described as the nation's second-ranking aerodynamics engineer, was arrested Wednesday night in his book-lined mid-Manhattan apartment. F.B.I. agents also seized some of his personal papers.

The tall scientist, whose father was a native of Russia, was to be arraigned today before Federal Judge Henry M. Goddard on charges he lied four times to a grand jury investigating espionage last August and September. He was indicted Tuesday and the sealed charges were opened a few hours before the F.B.I. went to his apartment.

A member of the U.S. District Attorney's Office said the indictment "charges Perl lied before the grand jury about his acquaintance with five persons." The spokesman said the first two counts accused Perl of perjury in testifying he did not know Morton Sobell and Julius Rosenberg, now on trial in New York for atomic espionage.

ROMANCE IN KOREA

Lovely, Mysterious Blonde Thrills War-Wearied Troops

WITH U.S. 1ST CAVALRY DIVISION, KOREA (AP)—Soldiers plodding the dusty road up front just stopped and stared. There was something startling about this refugee—something wonderful. She was a golden blonde, with blue eyes and rosy cheeks. And she was clean as a pin, something most unusual in these parts. She was about eight years old and traveling with a Korean couple. The soldiers paused and gave her candy bars. Who was she? They couldn't find out. She didn't speak English. Neither did the Koreans.

The couple talked to the child and she replied in fluent Korean. Then they walked down the road.

Franco Extending Anti-Strike Drive

BARCELONA, Spain (UP)—The government extended its retaliatory campaign from Barcelona to nearby towns today to smash the last signs of resistance from strikers protesting against the high cost of living. Government orders for severe punishment and firing of strikers sent all in this port city of 1,125,000 back to their jobs following sit-down strikes and riots last Monday.

But in the port town of Badalona and Mataro northeast of here, nearly half the industrial workers stayed away from their jobs.

Further, despite front-line reports of Communist retreats and the reconquest of Seoul, some bitter battles may have to be fought by the United Nations forces before they come up to the 38th Parallel across the peninsula.

A London dispatch today said the British agree with the view expressed by Gen. Douglas MacArthur in a cable interview with President Hugh Baillie of the United Press that practical considerations forbid trying to hold a defensive line at the 38th Parallel.

If and when Allied forces reach the Parallel, the U.N. command has ample authority to push on across in accordance with military requirements. However, the generally-accepted view here is that the area of the Parallel, either a little north or a little south, probably is about as far as the U.N. forces will try to go in great strength.

SEUL NOT SIGNIFICANT

Responsible officials discussed the situation today in the light of reports to the effect that with the capture of Seoul the Korean war can be expected to end in a few days.

Michael McDermott, State Department press officer, says "there is no basis whatever for any such reports," and adds: "There is no indication whatever that the other side has given up its thought of driving us out of Korea."

This clearly means that the State Department has had no indication through the U.N. Good Offices Commission or through other countries that the Reds now are interested in a settlement.

The Chinese have declared the objective of taking all of Korea unless there is a settlement on their terms. But there has been and continues to be considerable hope here that when the fighting has gone on long enough and the Chinese are convinced they cannot win the complete military victory they seek, then they will be willing to talk more reasonably.

The minimum basis of settlement to which the United States would agree, responsible officials say, is the complete liberation of South Korea.

'MONEY-MAKING' MACHINE MERELY PRODUCED NOISES

NEW YORK (AP)—A Brooklyn tool and die-maker was under arrest today charged with a $25,000 swindle involving a "money-making" machine that made only noise. The defendant, Harry Pollack, 55, was charged with grand larceny.

Sol Newman, 40, of Brooklyn, complained that Pollack told him he had a scheme to "make a lot of money." The complaint said Newman was shown a machine, and was urged to put two $20 bills in it. When he did so, he said, the wheels turned and out came four fresh $20 bills.

Newman said he was assured that any money he put in the machine would be doubled. So he borrowed $25,000 and put it in the machine. Out came a package, which he said he was told contained $50,000. When he opened it, he found only paper.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Inflation now has pounded the United States dollar down to where it will just about buy a 50-cent cigar.

G.O.P. Leaders Confident Of Halting Truman

WASHINGTON (UP)—House Republican leaders claimed confidently today the G.O.P. can thwart President Truman in Congress on just about any controversial issue he chooses.

They served notice that Mr. Truman had better consult them first before trying to get any major legislation through Congress.

They were feeling unusually chipper because they handed Mr. Truman two defeats this week. On Tuesday the House rejected his request for emergency authority to reorganize defense agencies, and Wednesday it refused to consider his defense housing bill.

OTHER MATTERS

Other Congressional developments: Troops — Senator Harry F. Byrd, D. Va., said President Truman risks "impeachment" if he ignores Senate demands for a voice on sending more U.S. troops to Europe.

R.F.C.—Support for proposals to abolish the Reconstruction Finance Corp. snowballed in Congress as the Senate Republican policy committee put its official blessing on the proposed action.

Rent Controls—Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott, R. Mich., said Congress is likely to extend federal rent controls for another 90 days to June 30.

Draft—The House armed services committee tried again to get a final vote on its compromise bill to start drafting American boys at 18½.

Truman Holds Door Open To Reds On Peace Plan

KEY WEST, Fla. (BUP)—President Truman kept the door wide open today for Russia to join the free world in establishing a "fool-proof" disarmament program and a "just and lasting peace."

But he sharply warned that the free nations must, in the meantime, arm quickly and vigorously. By doing so, Mr. Truman said, "They may be able to convince potential aggressors that the control and reduction of armaments is a desirable policy."

Mr. Truman's major foreign policy pronouncement was contained in a 1,500-word letter to Senator Ralph E. Flanders, R. Vt., made public by the little White House Wednesday night.

He said that the west's build-up will have the effect of discouraging aggression and "may eventually lead to a change in the tactics of the Soviet Union and its satellites that would ease international tension."

"That is our great hope," he added. In any case, he said, the free world must rearm to head off World War III and to meet such a conflict "if it is forced upon us" by Russia.

Mr. Truman's letter was in reply to a letter last month from Flanders and 21 other members of Congress urging the United States to follow up in the United Nations Mr. Truman's October plea for peace through disarmament. The 22 proposed lifting the Iron Curtain, complete disarmament of all nations under U.N. direction and surveillance and establishment of an all-powerful U.N. police force.

Say TV Inspired Woman To Suicide

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. (Reuter)—Mrs. Eileen Cockle, 41, sat with her husband watching a television play in which a character committed suicide by gassing himself.

"That's what I'll do one of these days," she said—and eight days later she did, following faithfully the steps she had seen on TV.

Dr. W. H. Davidson, who presided at an inquest said: "It is a pity details of suicides are given so other people can imitate them."

Ottawa In Retreat

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT'S estimates of expenditure for the next fiscal year seem to indicate that Mr. Abbott's long battle for economy has been lost. While the news dispatches do not give us complete details and Mr. Abbott's figures must be more carefully examined when the full text of his statement to Parliament is available, it appears that he has saved only about $35 millions on current expenses. This reduction in the Government's demand for goods and services in competition with the consumer will have no effect on inflationary pressures.

As against the pitiful economies which Mr. Abbott has been able to make the defence program has risen to the new high of $1.7 billions and the total budget moves up to over $3.5 billions as against $2.7 billions in the fiscal year now ending.

The Government's appetite for goods and services becomes so enormous and is so increased by the higher spending of provinces and municipalities that a heavy new inflationary pressure can be foreseen. We have not yet reached the real inflationary crisis which will arise when all our governments go into the market with their new budgets to compete with the consumer for supplies.

So far the Federal Government has relied on fiscal measures to attack inflation—higher interest rates, restriction of bank credit, a balanced budget and an attempt at economy in non-defence spending. These measures, on their present scale, are patently failing. The basic weapon of economy has failed altogether. Foreseeing all this, the Government seems to be retreating from sound economic measures toward direct measures of control which are purely political. Under growing pressure from Parliament and people for some magical solution in the form of control, the Government appears to be getting ready to abandon its present policy by some compromise or another.

A movement into controls of some sort is clearly forecast in the speeches of Mr. St. Laurent and Mr. Howe. As they and Mr. Abbott have said over and over again, a system of direct controls cannot hope to work but, in practical politics, it may be unavoidable.

Before any such retreat from economics to politics is executed the public should understand that there can be no easy solution by such methods. There will be inflation, however it may be temporarily disguised, so long as too much money is chasing too few goods. Above all, there will be inflation in Canada so long as it is welling out of the fiscal policies of the United States and flowing across our border.

No matter what it may do no Canadian Government can stop inflation when it is under way in the neighboring country where we sell and buy most of our exports and imports, thus inheriting the American price level. All the Canadian Government can do with direct controls at the moment is to disguise inflation. With direct controls the American Government is not even disguising it yet.

The Other Side Of The Road

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA AUTOMOBILE Association has now presented to the Cabinet 31,000 letters and cards supporting the case it set out a month ago in favor of reduced taxes and license charges against B.C. motorists.

In its earlier brief the association stated, among other points, that the B.C. motorist is now one of the most heavily taxed car owners in Canada, that more good highways are necessary, but the costs of them should be borne by all citizens, that exorbitant taxation was limiting the number of people who can own automobiles, and that still higher charges are in store for motorists.

Anyone who drives can see merit in that case, but it is only half the picture. The other half is a composition of prosaic figures. In the 1950-51 fiscal year, the province provided from current revenue upwards of $20 million for highway maintenance and highway debt carrying charges, in addition to $16.2 million furnished by borrowing for new work. Against those totals, licenses, gas tax and various fees brought in revenue of $17,433,000 from the motorist. Those highways, though of general use and value, were mainly required to meet the automobile owners' needs.

Statistics also show that despite the assertion that high taxation is actually limiting the number of people who can own automobiles, the number of vehicle registrations in 1950 was 17 per cent above the 1949 figures.

Government officials, discussing the gas tax, state only two provinces have a lower rate than B.C.

The figures show that the Government is spending more on roads than it is receiving from the motorists as motorists. To emphasize the point, officials point out that in some of the states to the south, where charges appear lighter on the car owner, the volume of owners provides so much revenue that it exceeds road costs and goes to general revenue.

Motorists in B.C. would obviously appreciate reduction of their expenses. They may also make a good case against the principle of collecting driver's license fees five years in advance. But if they want good roads—and they do—the Government appears to have an excellent answer to their pleas for lower charges.

Too Much Of A Good Thing

IT WILL HAVE COME AS A SURPRISE to most Canadians that Mr. John Diefenbaker, K.C., the eminent lawyer and Member of Parliament from Saskatchewan, should have had to pay $1500 to the British Columbia Law Society for the privilege of practicing in this province. In this instance it may well be that he must pay that charge to appear in a single case, for it is only his interest in a current manslaughter trial that has brought him west of the Rockies.

The imposition of such a large levy on qualified lawyers from other provinces—Manitoba is the only other province with a comparable assessment—is obviously an excessive use of the powers conferred on the Law Society by the Legislature. When the amount imposed so far exceeds a reasonable charge for registration and acceptance it represents a tariff on talent passing from one province to another. That is definitely not in the spirit of the British North America Act, Canada's constitution. It is an exaggerated restriction on the movement of Canadians throughout their country in pursuit of their employment—or an over-enthusiastic attempt to fill the coffers of the Law Society.

That body is the creature of the Legislature. If it continues to abuse the powers granted it, the Legislature should impose some discipline. It should be said that many lawyers are personally against this resort to exclusionism, but the Law Society has taken no steps to abolish a practice particularly onerous on young lawyers beginning their careers.

A Rest Well Earned

MOST CANADIANS APPRECIATE the service rendered to this country by the Canadian National Railways. The peacetime and wartime records of the continent-spanning lines are imposing documents in progress.

The story of the Canadian National is no mere recital of physical properties. It is the flesh and blood drama of men who see that the locomotives do their job, that the tracks are able to carry the rolling stock and that the traffic on those tracks justifies the expense of maintaining a costly service.

In recognition of that vital factor, tribute is being paid this week to the work of Alistair Fraser, vice-president in charge of traffic, who is retiring after 19 years effective and honorable service in that office.

Mr. Fraser is known to many Canadians. His record is one of which the company is proud, and his personal abilities are such that he has been able to undertake successfully his exacting tasks and facilitate the steady climb of the company from the depression levels of 1932, when he assumed his vice-presidency, to the present enviable position.

As he leaves for a well-earned retirement, the good wishes of the Times join those of many others for his continued health and enjoyment of life.

B.C. Leads The Parade

THE DIMENSIONS OF THE BRITISH Columbia Government's new budget can be quickly grasped when it is placed beside the budget of Ontario. British Columbia proposes to spend $118.2 millions on current expenses in the next fiscal year and, if its past over-expenditures are any guide, will spend more than that Ontario will spend $255.7 millions.

The population of British Columbia is now estimated at 1,138,000. Hence the per capita expenditure of the Provincial Government (apart from capital investment) will be $104. The population of Ontario is approximately 4,600,000. Hence its per capita expenditure is $56.

By far the most populous and richest province of Canada is spending far less per person than British Columbia. Which is only another way of saying that the British Columbian is paying far more taxes than the resident of Ontario. When the budgets of all the other provinces have been passed by their legislatures it will be found that British Columbia, as usual, heads the parade in spending and taxing.

Chips Off The Old Brock

By DAVID BROCK

HERE are a few notes for the guidance of those who wish to write me anonymous letters. Most newspaper men declare they throw all such mail into the wastepaper basket unread. And perhaps they really do, though sometimes they may forget to look at the end of a letter before the beginning. In any event, I enjoy such letters immensely. Some of them I do throw out after giving them my respectful attention, but others I preserve as a sort of inverted tribute. A few of them I wear out through constant re-reading and from subjecting them to the rough friction of my friends' trembling fingers. Having noted certain common features of anonymous letters, I am able to give you anonymous writers some generous advice.

Brock

HERE are some rules:

1. Anonymous writers nearly always fall into the bad habit of using quotation marks or inverted commas around words that cannot justify this waste of ink, paper, and time. They will write: "I hated your remarks" about steeplejacks. A steeplejack is always a "loyal" friend to others and other "pets." I know, because my "aunt" married one. Since this is a mark of illiteracy, it is especially to be avoided in accusing me of being an unlettered fool.

2. It is absolutely useless to say "Judge not," etc., to anyone you happen to be judging yourself. It only makes him laugh, which is not your motive at all, at all.

3. Try not to claim that you never read a man when you obviously do. On the other hand, always read any words before you intend to reply to them; otherwise neither you nor your pen-pal will be quite sure what you are talking about.

4. Although there are not very many good jokes to remember, there are two good things to remember about jokes. A light-hearted joke should not be taken seriously; and a serious joke should not be laughed off, for it may be only too true.

5. Do remember the old limerick: A critic of much savoir-faire Remarked when pursued by a bear: "I shall argue a while In a feminine style... No creature could follow me there."

I FORGET who wrote that one, if ever I knew. (Write in anonymously about my memory, chaps.) But there's little use in writing anonymously to its honest old author, even if you know him, to complain on behalf of indignant feminists. He didn't claim that all men argue in a good masculine style and all women in a bad feminine one. I suspect that over half the anonymous writers in Victoria who use a bad feminine style are really men. How's that for a subtle disguise, even if they were born that way?

6. On going to bed each night, repeat the words of Sam'l Butler (known to some as Sam, Sam, the Dirty Old Man), who said: "A man's business, they (the people of Erewhon) hold, is to think as his neighbors do, for heaven help him if he thinks good what they count bad. And really it is hard to see how the Erewhonian theory differs from our own, for the word 'idiot' only means a person who forms his opinions for himself." This may not be entirely true. But what fun if it were!

COME, THOU MONARCH OF THE VINE!

A VISITOR from U.S.A. said "Let us find a bar. We're right bang in the middle of town. It couldn't be so far."

"Farther in time than mileage, boy," I said, "but wait and see: We're going to have a plebiscite in 1953."

"I'd heard," he said, "Canadians were either Yanks or Limeys. An unoriginal cross between doggone-you's and gorbimeys. But look how you've invented a unique society, Damp-dried all ready for ironing in 1953."

"Well, yonder in Esquimalt there's some elementary pubs, And 'praps some government members take their leisure at their clubs," I started to explain to him. "Leisure is right," said he, "I'd like myself to be sitting around till 1953."

"It's true," I said, "there's little result from all our recent fuss. We fooled ourselves, and thus, the drinks are certainly on us. Still, patience is terribly good for one, and so is a cup of tea, And so is a spot of plebiscite in 1953."

WELL, CHAR ME DOWN!

IF I WERE allowed to use the vile epithet charwoman, I would tell you a funny story about a char. (It is also a story about modern times!) However, I am compelled to refer to her as a cleaner (which is untrue), or something of that sort.

This businesswoman, B.W. for short, arrived from a distance to clean the house of a friend of mine, at a dollar an hour plus bus fare. Toward the end of a leisurely day, during which one task after another was angrily refused, the B.W. was offered a ride all the way home by my friend, who was going that way. Since my friend was in a hurry, she paid the B.W. for the whole of the last hour, though only half of it was up. But at the end of the ride, the B.W. said, "Hi, you've gyped me, you've knocked off my bus fare home." My friend said mildly, "Why not? I drove you home." The B.W. said, "A contract's a contract, and I know my rights. Hand it over."

Twentieth Century Man

As Our Readers See It

RURAL RATES

In the interest of your rural readers I ask why should the B.C.E. be allowed to increase the rate (we already pay 1 1/2 per k.w.h. higher than Victoria) to consumers so that they can pay the increase lately granted to the bus drivers of Victoria?

We, the users in the following districts, do not use the Victoria transportation system: Colwood, Albert Head, Metchoin, East Soke, Happy Valley, Luxton, Glen Lake, Sooke, Sooke Road, Langford, Malahat, Cobble Hill and Mill Bay, Shawnigan Lake.

Why not increase bus fares? If that does not provide means to pay wages, it is about time they declared the bus line insolvent and went into bankruptcy like any other business which could not pay its way.

Would suggest users in the above districts get busy and write the Public Utilities Commission, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, protesting the proposed advance in electric rates.

ONE OF THE USERS.

'CHEAPER JUICE'

Vancouver City Council is to be honored because it has not agreed to the demands of the B.C. Electric for an increase in electric light rates to pay bus fares. It is mighty bad business when a company has to deprive one source to pay another.

The Victoria City Council evidently thinks it is quite in order to agree to their demands. The B.C. Electric is getting quite a high rate for their juice. Let them leave the lower bracket users alone. Let them get after the industries, and the rich who have every form of electric implement for their comfort.

Don't they realize there would be more electric implements used if they sold their juice cheaper, and it would give greater comfort to thousands of the people who have rights to comforts they don't get?

MRS. ADELAIDE MARSHALL.
1075 Verrinder Avenue.

SALES TAX

Speaking of inequitable taxation, nothing is more so than the B.C. sales tax on electricity and gas fuels. Coal, sawdust, wood and oil are exempt, yet the users of electricity and gas are made to pay.

Dominion government accounts are exempt from 3 per cent while municipal street lighting and power, etc., has to pay 3 per cent.

An increase in B.C.E. rates will also increase the 3 per cent tax still more.

All B.C. industry pays 3 per cent on light, power and gas which goes into the finished cost of manufacture. The retailer adds his percentage of profit to his cost which to an extent inflates to retail cost. The consumer pays another 3 per cent.

The latter looks more like indirect than direct taxation, indirect taxation by provincial governments being contrary to B.N.A. Act.

If one fuel is exempt, in all fairness they all should be. Electricity and gas are being used exclusively for every purpose including heating in some homes.

FRANK H. PARTRIDGE.
151 Beach Drive.

FILLED UP

One recent morning people who were anxious to get to work had to wait for over half an hour on the bus-stops on the Haultain Street run while five buses loaded with school children passed them. On no occasion did these five stop to pick-up ordinary pedestrians.

Is it imperative that these children should be catered to in preference to the older people who have to get on the job? Are not these kids capable of walking a few blocks knowing that they would be sitting down the rest of the time and give the workers a chance to be on time?

I think a little exercise would be beneficial in lots of cases, and greatly help our present transportation system which isn't anything to write home about at anytime.

1315 Bay Street. E. SANDERS.

BUTTER SHORTAGE

I see the butter kings have fooled us again. Each time they hold butter in storage till it's almost unfit for human consumption the same old baited line comes out (shortage of butter), and we, the people, fall for it and buy it whether we need it or not. Hence we clear out the butter that smells anything but fresh and so repeat the same process with the possibility of a raise in prices.

F. SMITH.

Fixing The Electricity Rate

There have been letters to the press which indicate some misunderstanding about certain aspects of the electric rate increases.

When any utility company puts electrical service into a house it takes on an obligation to serve that house at all times, and in order to carry out this obligation the utility company must have a large investment in various kinds of electrical plant and services.

A substantial part of this investment is called "customer cost" in electrical rate-making language; it is the stand-by cost which the electrical company has to assume simply to be ready to serve the residential customer quite apart from any energy he uses. For instance, if a family went to England for six months, these costs would still continue.

"Customer cost" is made up of the carrying charges and maintenance costs for meters, poles and fixtures; a portion of the distribution system between the substation and your house; service connection to your house; and, finally, the monthly cost for meter reading and billing. These costs at today's prices amount to $2.50 per household per month on the B.C. Electric system.

It is immediately apparent, therefore, that the first step in the new residential rate represents a very reasonable allocation of costs at today's prices.

A family using the full 60 kilowatt hours at 5c per kilowatt hour has a monthly bill of $3, which just leaves 50c for the cost of providing energy (costs of generation, transmission and substations enter into "energy cost"). The customer using 50 kilowatt hours just covers his "customer cost" without contributing anything to "energy cost," while those using less than 50 kilowatt hours don't even cover their "customer cost."

In view of these facts and of the further fact that the Vancouver Island minimum monthly charges are only 75c for the city and $1 for suburban areas, it is obvious that the new residential rate still gives the "breaks" to the small family consumer.

E. W. ARNOTT.
Vice-president, B.C. Electric Co. Ltd.

Balancing Our Respective Power

By WALTER LIPPMANN

From Washington

NO ONE can have been writing for newspapers a long time without being fully aware of how much safer it is to prophecy disaster than to venture to express a hope. It is safe to be gloomy. If one prophesies disaster and it happens, one has been a true prophet. And if it does not happen, one is readily forgiven and may even suggest that but for the warning the disaster would have happened.

Nevertheless there is a difference between being realistic and being pessimistic. Even in this unhappy century pessimists have now and then been responsible for some very costly mistakes. Thus, if it is true, as in fact it is, that before both of the great wars we have been complacently optimistic and unprepared to fight, it is also true that at the climax of both wars we were rigidly pessimistic, refused to believe in victory, when it was already in sight and were almost deliberately unprepared for the victory when it came.

There is, I think, strong reason to believe that we are approaching one of the crises of our relations with the Soviet Union and that—though it may be considered heretical to admit it—on the issue of whether there is to be war or peace the balance of forces is very considerably in our favor.

The Soviet government knows that if it came to war its principal antagonist would be the United States. It knows that North America is for all practical purposes at the present time a base which cannot be conquered or destroyed, yet from it immensely destructive blows can be launched against the heart of the Russian Empire.

Though Russia were able to survive these blows, though the Red Army were able to seize hostages and to obtain compensation in Europe, the fact would remain that North America could not be defeated. Therefore we in North America would decide the length of the war.

The problem of our diplomacy is to use but not to abuse this fundamental advantage. The advantage in our favor can be abused, and it can be squandered.

The power we possess is the power to deter. That is a great power—provided that we do not forget that the power to deter is a limited power. It is by no means an unlimited and an absolute power, far from it. It is not the power to compel, it could and it probably would cease to be deterrent.

In other words, the power to deter can be regarded as effective against the Soviet Union only if there is a clear alternative to war. That alternative must necessarily be negotiated settlements in which the survival of the Soviet government and the security of Russia are not at stake.

The power to deter rests on the major premise that the terms of settlement will not be unconditional surrender. The power to deter is the military complement of the doctrine that the co-existence of unfriendly regimes is possible and that their co-existence can be made tolerable.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN A. TOBIN

"I SEE in the news," said the Elevator Man, "where some fellas have been pulling a fast one in the fuel business. They drove up to a house with some poor quality wood and dumped it. They said they were from the company the householder had ordered some wood from, and tried to get paid. But it turned out they were on their own, and the real delivery truck showed up later. Then in London something the same happened. A fella arrived at a hospital and said, 'I've come for the television set. It has to be repaired.' He took it away, and then they discovered he'd swiped it. A few days later another fella turned up and said, 'I've come for the television set. It has to be repaired.' Of course they grabbed him and called the police. But this time it really was the repair man. He got the wrong reception. Lower main!"

"It seems to me," said the Elevator Man, "we all too often give the wrong reception to the right man and vice versa. We open the door to some crack pot or mountebank and slam it in the face of the man who really has some thing for us. We close the barn door after the horse has been stolen, or we gallop away on the horse while some body steals the barn. Half the time we're too trusting, the rest of the time we're too suspicious. As the fella said at the spiritualist meeting as he threv aside his cane, 'How can you strike a happy medium?' Going down!"

"Trouble is," said the Elevator Man "our bad judgments aren't confined to minor things like loads of wood and television repairs. A lot of people just can't seem to resist the phone fella who pop up and want to sell them bad ideas. And then because they've been swindled, they turn down the next sensible leader who appears. But maybe we're to blame ourselves, because we're always on the lookout for something, for nothing. We're too much like the little girl at Sunday school for the first time. 'What did you get out of school today?' asked her mother. 'Nothing,' says the youngster. The teacher told m to sit in the end chair for the present. But she didn't give me a thing."

Hospital Changes Only Experiments

Time Will Tell If Successful, Says
Minister, As M.L.A.'s Fire Questions

The government doesn't know to what extent co-insurance will assist the financial position of the Hospital Insurance Service.

Health Minister Douglas Turnbull said in the Legislature Wednesday only time will tell. He was answering questions being thrown from all sides of the House when amendments to the Hospital Insurance Act allowing $9 increases in premiums and other changes came up for third reading.

The amendments will be discussed again today.

Hospitals Collected 60 Per Cent

Mr. Turnbull said only 60 per cent of hospital accounts were collected prior to introduction of hospital insurance. This was no indication of the collections to be made of the $2 to $3.50 a day to be charged for the first 10 days' stay in hospital, though.

Size of the bills, prior to the insurance scheme were staggering in some cases, and bills for social assistance cases were not paid as they will be in the co-insurance plan.

The minister said it was realized, nevertheless, that collections of co-insurance charges were going to be a problem.

He said $100,000 was being set aside to assist hospitals to expand the collection machinery they already had, so that the co-insurance charges could be handled.

Government Not Guaranteeing Debts

Further to the question of hospitals having to collect the extra charges, Mr. Turnbull said H.I.S. was not going to guarantee paying all bad debts. The local community would have to take some responsibility in the matter. If a hospital did not do a thorough job in collections, the whole province should not be made to cover the "shoddy" work in one district.

In the past, the grants made to hospitals included funds to cover a portion of bad debts, though, and this will continue.

Premier Johnson told the House hospitals had been treated fairly under H.I.S. and this will continue.

"If hospital insurance is going to stay with us, though," said the Premier, "we're going to need a marked degree of co-operation from hospital boards."

"Let's try it for a year and see if we can get the boards to co-operate with us and make hospital insurance work," he added.

The question of restrictions in dependency under family-unit premiums was raised by the C.C.F. and Mr. Turnbull said

Youth Sentenced

VANCOUVER (CP)—Peter Demich, 22-year-old laborer, was sentenced in county court today to five years in B.C. penitentiary for the armed robbery of the York Hotel beer parlor here Jan. 12, when $1,010 was stolen.

again it was the intention of the government to limit coverage to the spouse of the head of a household, any children under 19, and children under 21 attending university.

Premier Johnson closed the discussion when he asked that the question be stood over until later.

RECEIVES $990,012.56 CHEQUE INSTEAD OF $12.56 PAYMENT

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A cheque for $990,012.56 came to Mrs. Mary X. Mason Wednesday. It was from an insurance company and represented a refund on furniture which had been sold.

"The amount seemed rather high," Mrs. Mason said. The company explained its cheque-writing machine went haywire. The amount should have been $12.56.

THE HOME GARDEN

Sulphur Essential To Growth Of Plants

By JACK G. BEASTALL

Sulphur, in various forms, has many uses in the home garden. The most amazing fact is that it is the only fungicide and insecticide in use today, which was known to the ancients.

Cato, who wrote one of the earliest books on agriculture, used it to fumigate fruit trees as far back as the year 200 B.C.

Flowers-of-sulphur were being used to combat plant lice in 1787, and for peach mildew by 1821.

Although much used today for dusting, this form of sulphur is actually too coarse for adequate coverage of the foliage, and may, in some instances, cause burning.

For good dusting, sulphur must be fine enough to go through a 300-mesh sieve (300 holes to the square inch), and the commercial forms have talc or lead-arsenate, added as a "fluffer." The lead arsenate is a control for chewing insects.

COLORS GREEN

The so-called "wettable sulphurs" are prepared by adding various fluxes such as calcium caseinate, oleic acid, glue, flour, dextrin, or diatomaceous earth, and they are very noticeable when applied to plants.

To obviate the unsightly residue on the foliage it is impossible to buy dusting sulphurs which have been colored green. Powders of this type are in extensive use.

Livers-of-sulphur (potassium sulphate) have been long used as a stainless spray on ripening fruit, also by florists in combating mildew on flower crops.

Sulphur is one of the 10 or more chemical elements believed to be essential to the growth of plants, although it is rarely necessary to add it to the soil (as far as fertility is concerned) under normal garden conditions.

Rain-Making Claims Hotly Disputed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rain-making pioneers, their heads in the clouds, put out a qualified forecast Wednesday that mankind will have "a considerable control" of the weather in years to come.

The United States Weather Bureau's response: You'll have to show us.

Ronning At Hongkong En Route To Ottawa

HONGKONG (AP)—Chester Ronning, acting Canadian ambassador to China since the Reds took over, arrived in Hongkong today en route to Ottawa.

The former first secretary of the Canadian embassy, who was in Nanking, refused to discuss conditions in Red China but said he had difficulty in getting out.

Eleven per cent of the 84,179,000 head of cattle in the U.S. last January was in Texas.

Three Senate sub-committees held a joint hearing on legislation that would put rain-making and similar weather experiments under federal control.

Dr. Bernard Vonnegut of the General Electric Company said the chances are "far greater than 99 out of 100 that cloud-seeding can be of enormous value to our country."

The weather bureau's assistant director, W. F. McDonald, said it's possible that rainfall may be started locally "in some degree" by artificial means. Beyond that he wouldn't go.

"Look," said Senator Clinton Anderson (Dem., N.M.), "If clouds are sprayed with these chemicals and then it rains, and they're sprayed again and it rains, and every time they're sprayed it rains, doesn't it begin to look as if there's something to this spray business?"

"That," McDonald declared, "is like saying that if a lot of women hang out their washings on Monday, and it rains on Wednesday, the rain was caused by hanging out the washings."

The weather bureau's assistant director, W. F. McDonald, said it's possible that rainfall may be started locally "in some degree" by artificial means. Beyond that he wouldn't go.

"Look," said Senator Clinton Anderson (Dem., N.M.), "If clouds are sprayed with these chemicals and then it rains, and

Seoul Hysterical With Joy As Troops March In

Eyewitness Tells Dramatic Story Of City's Reception; Old Men Weep, Women Hug, Kiss

SEOUL (AP)—Old men wept unashamed. Women hugged and kissed us. And squealing children fought to touch us as the first 19 United Nations men reached the heart of fire-blackened Seoul today.

Six were United States 3d Division Infantrymen. One was a Korean interpreter. Eleven were an assortment of correspondents and photographers. The 19th was a British driver. A police dog named Buck completed the party.

We were the first to penetrate to the centre of Seoul after abandonment of the ancient capital by North Koreans. And we walked there without a shot being fired.

The streets were deserted as we moved cautiously from the outskirts. But the news began to spread.

At first, small groups of Koreans waved flags and shouted "Manzal," the Korean equivalent of victory.

Then tiny children came scurrying from the houses like ants at a picnic.

Aged men and women with children on their backs clustered about.

Some of the women threw themselves at our feet and sobbed hysterically. Tears coursed down the cheeks of bearded old men. Most citizens wore tattered clothing.

The children shoved and pushed each other in a scramble for the right to grab our hands and touch us.

The shouts of "Manzal" grew louder as our following multiplied. The noise was like that back home at a ball park when someone hit a home run with the bases loaded.

Women hugged and kissed us.

Store Generously Aids Recovery Of Polio Victim

A "hands across the sea" venture started by the son of a Victoria woman, and followed through by the T. Eaton Co. Ltd., has resulted in the well-being and probable recovery of a young English polio victim.

Gwilym Jones, son of Mrs. S. Jones, 1307 Pembroke Street, and resident of Calgary, heard while vacationing in England that a family friend, 11-year-old John Charlton of Ponclun, North Wales, was confined to an iron lung.

When told that beef extract had been prescribed by physicians, and that it was unobtainable, he sent to the T. Eaton Co. for a bottle and offered payment from his bank account in Calgary.

The company went him one better. It sent a dozen large bottles to the boy as a gift, wished him well, and promised to send more if needed.

Reports from the boy's home said he was improving.

Cugat Challenged To Duel By Journalist

CALI, Colombia (AP)—Xavier Cugat, a fast man with a baton, has been challenged to a duel. The challenge came from an angry journalist. Band leader Cugat is pretty angry, too.

The journalist, Hernan Mateus Becerra of a Bogota news paper, apparently is wrought up because Cugat denied a story he wrote. Cugat apparently is wrought up because that story said his songstress and current heartbeat, Abbe Lane, is cooling toward him.

Nothing was said about what weapons at how many paces.

U.S. REQUESTS PENNIES USED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government wants people to put their piggy-bank hoards of pennies into circulation so it won't have to use up vital copper coining new ones.

Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the mint, issued a formal appeal to that effect, noting that "millions" of pennies are "believed to be stored in piggy-banks, sugar bowls and bureau drawers of American homes."

Booming business has created a heavy demand for pennies and other coins.

Opposition Leader Flays Aluminum Company Pact

Province Giving Away Rights, Resources, Says Harold Winch

A blistering attack on the government for its contract with Aluminum Company of Canada on water rights in the Tweedsmuir Park area, in which he said the rights and resources of the people of B.C. had been given away, was made in the Legislature Wednesday by Opposition Leader Harold Winch.

Winch said the government should be ashamed of signing the agreement which, he declared, "will rate with the giving away a half-century ago of the rights and resources of the people to the C.P.R. and the E. & N."

"Why should the province hand away its heritage," said the C.C.F. leader. "There may be another Kimberley, Britannia or Bralorne there."

Winch was angry also over the fact the contract did not compel the company to sell any of the

Nevada Governor Signs Anti-Union Shop Bill

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Governor Charles Russell Wednesday signed a bill prohibiting union-shop agreements or modifications thereof in Nevada. The Governor signed the measure a few minutes after labor forces in the Nevada Assembly had lost a last-ditch attempt to recall the measure from the Governor's office on the basis of a technical error discovered in the legislative procedure.

The Opposition Leader shot back: "If any company should be taken over in the public interest, we would do it." Referring to a congressional committee inquiry at Washington into Alcan's plans, Mr. Winch said the president of the company had testified the province was asked to undertake the power development the company required, but had refused.

COLEMAN'S COLUMN

By JIM COLEMAN

MARATHON, Ont.—Notes on a travel-soiled shirt-cuff . . .
Huck Welch, the old Hamilton and Montreal punter being moved from Winnipeg to Regina by his firm which specializes in plumbing novelties, cornered in Winnipeg the other day. He was telling your spy about Bert Oja's devastating tackle which put Welch out of the game in the first two minutes of the famous Winnipeg-Hamilton Grey Cup final in 1935. Well, Oja clobbered Welch so hard that Huck lost about $100 worth of teeth. And the joke of it is that Oja now is Welch's personal dentist in Winnipeg. . . .
Most disconsolate figure to be seen on the prairies these days is Tiny Thompson, scout for the hopeless Chicago Black Hawks.

Coleman

You can find Tiny at every airport or railway whistle-stop, but Tiny can't sign any players. When he mentions Chicago to them, they run and hide in the stubble.

An unusual young character is this Guyile Fielder who currently is receiving a three-game try-out with the Hawks. He is considered to be something of a phenom in the Western Canada Junior League. He is an American and is a nephew of Al Leader, president of the Pacific Coast League. His drum-beaters, Buck Buchanan, Ed Bruchet and Pete Slobodian, insist that he rises to great heights when he is in the mood.

One evening when he was playing for Lethbridge in Calgary, the Calgary supporters gave him a concerted bird. Fielder promptly went out and scored three goals in 47 seconds and before leaving the ice he bowed politely to his hecklers.

Helping The Youngsters

Bruchet, a railroad yardmaster who has backed the Lethbridge team for years, maintains a remarkable menage. He owns a house which is occupied entirely by his junior and juvenile hockey players. Hordes of them, some of the boys who have gone on to professional hockey, come back to spend the summers at Bruchet's house instead of going to their own homes.

A remarkable organization is the Regina Parks Hockey League, which, this season, embraced 194 teams of kids. A total of 2,672 kids competed in the league and they played in 2,780 games. The league is proving to be a splendid proving ground for Montreal Canadians, who have moved into the prairie city on a large scale.

Frank Selke, general manager of the Canadiens, was there last week to take a look at some of his young, upcoming material. Calgary has reason to be proud of its magnificent new hockey rink which must be just about the finest on the continent. The nurgers are muttering over the official name of "The Coral" which was given to the rink, but, at least, it is distinctive.

The Bentleys—Whence They Came

Ernie Farr, veteran Calgary promoter, has a lightweight named Ernie Kemick, who, he says, is ready to fight Armand Savio, Alan McFater or Solly Cantor. . . . Harry Scott, former Calgary sports editor and professional hockey player who now spreads goodwill for a brewery, says that he is tired of seeing other persons take the credit for sending the Bentley brothers to the National Hockey League. Harry concedes that they were first recommended to the Hawks by an Edmonton man but Bill Tobin wouldn't accept them, he says, until Harry okayed them. Scott says that he recommended an entire line of Bentleys—Doug, Max and Scoop.

Les Lear reports that Royal Copeland still is in Santa Monica, Cal., operating his hamburger stand and he denies Toronto rumors that Copeland has received an American draft call. . . . There has been quite a scoring feud between Sid Finney of Calgary and Colin Kilburn of Edmonton in the Western Canada Hockey League.

Finney is a smoothie but appears a bit too frail for major professional competition. There was widespread applause when Finney went ahead of Kilburn, the all-time scoring champion, because Kilburn is a truculent little cuss who enjoys earning a deal more than his share of penalties. . . .

A Road Team From Canada

Sir Stanley Zedd, the blood-stained old lacrosse player, has jumped back into sport with both feet. Last summer he collected an all-Negro baseball team to represent Winnipeg in the Manitoba Dakota League and they won the championship. Now he has sponsored the Buffalo Senior Hockey team and he thinks that they can win the Allan Cup. Additionally, he is racing a stable of horses in the States and he has a foal by Teddy Wrack with which he hopes to win the King's Plate at Toronto. Negro stars, managed by Willie Wells Sr., are becoming so well known in the United States that they have been booked for an exhibition tour which will keep them busy in American cities every day until May 14. Maury Van Vleet, who represented the Western Intercollegiate Conference at the Canadian Rugby Union meeting in Winnipeg, was an all-coast half-back when he played for Oregon University. However, his best game was baseball and he and the great Joe Gordon played together in the Oregon infield.

CAN'T GET STEEL

Curling Rink Project Pigeon-Holed By Club

A reluctant group of curlers temporarily shelved plans for a Victoria curling rink at the City Hall last night.

After hearing an executive report on the difficulty of procuring building materials, the annual general meeting of the Victoria Curling Club adopted the recommendation that present plans be hoisted; that the option on the Pembroke and Blanshard Streets site be retained, and that an annual membership fee be solicited to pay taxes on the property.

Nearly $15,000 cash had been realized in the club's drive for building funds, and pledges for $32,000 had been recorded. The money will be returned with thanks.

Elected president for the coming year was Max Zabel, with Eric Bullock as vice-president. Executive members elected were: William Hyde, J. E. Neely, P. Tucker and Colin Wells, all for two years, and J. W. Oosterink for a one-year term.

MEDAL PLAY POSTPONED
Scheduled for Sunday at Colwood, the city monthly medal golf round has been postponed to March 25. Draw and starting times will be announced later.

EAGLES WITHIN SINGLE POINT OF ROCKETS

Ironmen To Meet Cougars Friday

One point, no more, today separates Portland Eagles from third place and the Tacoma Rockets in the Pacific Coast Hockey League. That's the same difference that separates Victoria Cougars and New Westminster Royals in their first-place battle with the Cougars holding the edge.

Eagles climbed that high last night by coming from behind to edge Seattle Ironmen, 3 to 2. Two goals by Walt Samanski and one by Bill Summerhill provided the Portland triumph.

With Seattle leading 2 to 0, Samanski got his first at 16:24 of the second period. His second at 2:38 of the third frame knotted the count. Summerhill got the winner with just under five minutes to play.

TICKETS ON SALE
On the Cougars' home front, tickets for the first two league semifinals games here Tuesday and Thursday went on sale today. Reservation holders must pick up such ducats the day before a scheduled game.

Cougars meet Seattle here tomorrow night while New Westminster is at Vancouver.

Summary of last night's game follows:

SEATTLE 2, PORTLAND 3
First period—1. Seattle: Maxwell (inter-an), Nixon 14:15. Penalties: Kerr, Bowman.
Second period—2. Seattle: Weaver (Jones) 6:26, 3. Portland: Samanski 16:24.
Penalties: Nixon, Cluman, Conn.
Third period—4. Portland: Samanski (Silvestri, Homeaker) 2:38, 5. Portland: Summerhill (Conn) 15:58. Penalties: Weaver.

Sisters Pace Moose Women At Alberni

Pat and Helen Pettigrew accounted for all but three of their team's points at Alberni last night as city's Moose interm-diate A women took the Alberni girls 40 to 23 in the first game of a home-and-home total-point series for the island crown.

In a preliminary contest, Victoria's First United junior boys lost the second tilt of their series with the Alberni juniors 52 to 45, losing the championship by a total score of 100 to 72.

Moose will endeavor to clinch their title when they play the second game of the series at the Badminton Hall here tomorrow night at 6.

Lineups follow:

Moose—H. Pettigrew 21, P. Pettigrew 16, Cor 3, Booth 1, Wlewsni, Dodsworth, Clunk. Total: 40.
Alberni Girls—Mort 7, Prudhomme 5, Earthy 3, Fort 3, Stanson 4, McGarrick 2. Total: 27.
First United—Pederson 16, Cameron 12, Brice, Hodge. Total: 45.
Alberni Boys—Williamson 14, Model 15, Pennington 5, Perry 3, Imlich 4, Knowles 3, Price 2, Schick 3, Garloux, Olander. Total: 52.

Leafs May Find Sweden Difficult

PARIS (Reuter)—Canada and the United States meet tonight in the highlight contest of a five-game world hockey tournament program as the nine-day series enters the home stretch.

Canada's Lethbridge Maple Leafs are hotly favored to run up a big score against the Bates Commercial Club of Lewiston, Me., one of the most disappointing teams the U.S. has ever sent into a world tournament.

But no matter what the Canadians do, the leader at the end of the day's play is likely to be Sweden. The Swedes now are one point ahead of the Leafs and face a soft game tonight against winless Finland.

The Swedes played a sparkling 3-to-3 draw against Switzerland last night in a game that had close to 11,000 fans on edge throughout.

As a result Switzerland—who has no game scheduled today—took over first place a fraction of a percentage point better than Sweden on goal average.

Canada, with a game in hand, was one point behind Sweden and Switzerland.

Darcus Cup Play To Start Friday

Postponed from last week due to unseasonable weather, the first round of competition in the women's Darcus Cup play will get under way Friday at Uplands Golf Club.

Draw and starting times will be the same as those set for last Friday.

Meteors Loom As Mercantile Threat

LEAFS STYMIE RANGERS IN N.H.L. RACE

Important Games Scheduled Tonight

Two of the National Hockey League playoff berths are as snarled as ever, but tonight's games could juggle the standing.

Detroit Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs are assured of a spot in the profitable post-season play. New York, Boston and Montreal are fighting it out for the other two niches.

New York missed an opportunity last night to pick up some badly-needed points in the night's only action. Toronto Maple Leafs downed the Rangers 3 to 1 in a dull, listless, Madison Square Garden game before 7,403—including the league's board of governors who are meeting in New York.

The victory moved the Leafs to within eight points of the league-leading Wings, but left New York and Boston knotted for third place with 50 points.

Montreal is fifth with 58. The Canadians are hosts to the Rangers tonight while Toronto meets the last-place Black Hawks in Chicago and Boston clashes with the Wings in Detroit.

Summary follows:

TORONTO 3, NEW YORK 1
First period—1. Toronto: Smith (Sloan, Kennedy) 13:39. Penalties: Raleigh.
Second period—2. Toronto: Kluskey (Timmer) 19:08. Penalties: Fisman.
Third period—3. New York: Toppas (Connor, Sinclair) 17:44; 4. Toronto: Thomson 14:52. Penalties: none.

Unbeaten Vics Whip Oak Bay

In a junior rugby game between Oak Bay High and undefeated Victoria High yesterday, the Bays were walloped 28 to 3.

Pete Ash made three tries and four conversions to lead the Vics to a 13 to 0 half-time lead. Harold Robinson, John Han, and Ron Wickstrom also made tries for Vic High.

Oak Bay prevented a white-washing by scoring a penalty kick late in the second half.

Oust Defending Champs From Post-Season Play

By LANCE WHITTAKER

"Gee, I hope the playoffs are like that." The little pig-tailer was speaking of the Meteor-Navy game at the Memorial Arena last night and she was echoing the sentiments of over 2,000 delicious hockey fans.

The Gladwell men were full value for their 4-to-3 overtime win, but it was a tough one for the Tars to lose. Don Fulton's blueshirts, last year's champions, played one of their best games this season as they bowed out to a determined Meteors squad.

The 3-to-1 win of the Civil Service over Douglas Tire in the second game was something of an anti-climax.

INTO PLAYOFFS

The victory puts Meteors in fourth place and squeaks them into the playoffs. If last night's game is any criterion of their play through the next 10 days, nobody will be selling them short.

It was a big night for the Jensen brothers. Bill got the first Meteor goal and assisted on each of the others.

Brother Walt got two goals, and Rod, third member of the trio, was a Gibraltar on defence.

With the fans chewing their fingernails, Navy forced the game into overtime when Paul Wannamaker fired a screened shot from near the blue line with only one and a half minutes left, to make the score 2 to 2.

Figured as underdogs in the extra period, because of their obvious weariness, Meteors upset the applecart and put the win on ice when Walt Jensen and brother Bill broke away twice in five minutes for picture goals which Bill set up and Walt fired home.

MEET DESKMEN

The Civil Service win—second in succession over Douglas Tire—makes it Meteors against Civil Service and Co-ops against Douglas Tire in the playoffs, which start Monday.

A close contest is anticipated in both brackets. Tiremen are the only team to show ability to win over Co-ops on the season's

Do You Know Any of these People and Their Interesting Health Stories?

See if Any of Your Friends Are Here From Other Towns

Mrs. L. Quaffe of 538 Spencer St., Medicine Hat, Alta.: "I must tell you of the wonderful results I've had using Sarnak. I used to be tired, depressed and suffered with indigestion and backache. I tried various things during the past two years that were supposed to help, but nothing I did gave me the results that Sarnak has given. After taking Sarnak for two weeks my appetite has improved about 100 per cent and I feel fine. I highly recommend Sarnak to anyone else who suffers as I did and hope this little note will be read by others and that they too will try this fine product."

Mrs. C. Wallace, Lethbridge, Alta.: "I can't praise Sarnak enough for what it has done for me. For years I've suffered with sore back and stomach upsets. Every morning my stomach acted up and I felt weak all the time. After taking two bottles of Sarnak I got relief from my troubles and now feel fine thanks to Sarnak. I've told my friends about Sarnak and they too are using it. I can only say the best for this medicine."

L. B. Snoden of Canmore, Alta.: "Sarnak is the only medicine that has given me relief. For years I've suffered with severe pain in my hips. At times it was almost impossible to get out of bed. I had been told that no medicine would do me any good, but after taking one bottle of Sarnak I am now feeling fine."

Mrs. W. G. Taylor of 321 1/2 Giroux St., St. Boniface, Man.: "I appreciate what Sarnak has done for me. For three years my back has been giving me trouble and recently I read about your new medicine and decided to try it. My backache was relieved within two days. I got my husband to start taking Sarnak and he too has benefited. I hope Sarnak helps others as it has helped us."

Mrs. Frances Dawson, Brentwood Bay, B.C.: "I am a housewife and for five years I have suffered with a kidney disorder. I have tried in different ways to get relief. After only one bottle of Sarnak, I feel much better and recommend it highly to others suffering from kidney trouble. I am starting my second bottle now and wouldn't want to be without Sarnak for the world. I only have high praise for this medicine."

MR. L. F. Wolfe, 270 W. 48th Ave., Vancouver, B. C.: "Before taking Sarnak I felt tired, rundown and my appetite was poor. This condition caused me to try various things during the past two years that were supposed to help, but nothing I did gave me the results that Sarnak has given. After taking Sarnak for two weeks my appetite has improved about 100 per cent and I feel fine. I highly recommend Sarnak to anyone else who suffers as I did and hope this little note will be read by others and that they too will try this fine product."

Miss Kay Beattie, 3138 East 27th St., Vancouver, B. C.: "For twelve years I haven't been able to eat or sleep properly due to nervousness. Nothing I did helped me until I tried Sarnak. Now I eat much better, sleep better and my nerves are more settled. I haven't quite finished my first bottle but believe me, I'm going to continue with Sarnak for a while as I've had such good results so far. A million thanks for this medicine."

Mr. Clarence Budynski, 56 Cadillac Ave., Victoria, B. C.: "Periodically during the past five years, I've suffered with stomach disorders, gas pains and backache. I've tried to get relief but it wasn't till I tried Sarnak that I got the relief I wanted. Sarnak brought relief from the first bottle. I think Sarnak is a fine medicine and won't be without it in my home. I hope others will learn of it and that they too will benefit as I have."

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor.

Feeling that the situation warranted the extra expense, Operator 13 was pressed into service again this week.

For the uninitiated, Operator 13 is the furtive figure employed at times by this department for the express purpose of ferreting out vital information that otherwise, would be withheld from you, the reader.

Somehow, Operator 13 sneaked into Cougar general manager Fred Hutchinson's office on Fort Street Tuesday afternoon and proceeded to vanish into thin air just about the time Hutch was talking hockey to Muzz Patrick of the Tacoma Rockets on the telephone.

Equipped with a modern wire recording device, which incidentally went on the hog, Operator 13 turned in the following report, which for clarity has been edited from the garbled original copy.

HUTCH: "What about these hockey playoff dates?"

MUZZ: "Don't bother me with playoff dates in Victoria. We're going to meet New Westminster, and we're going to meet New Westminster 'cause we're going to knock em' off tonight and that puts you in first place."

HUTCH: "So far so good, but what happens if we lose to Seattle?"

MUZZ: "If you lose to Seattle, you don't deserve to meet anybody in the finals."

HUTCH: "Suppose so. But you fellows have to beat Portland one game this week-end to finish third. Otherwise you'll be meeting us, if we finish first."

Rockets Have Edge On Royals

MUZZ: "Small talk coming from a guy like you. You know darn well we've had better success against the Royals than against the Cougars. And you can bet your horn-rimmed glasses that we'd rather meet them in the playoffs."

(Editor's note: Rockets hold 7-5-2 record against Royals on season.)

HUTCH: "Yes, but even if we tie one game and Westminster wins two, we wind up second as they have more victories. Then you'll meet us, and that's what I want to talk about. How about playing the final three games here if necessary?"

MUZZ: "You've been reading Lester's mail again. That's one of his tricks. What are you trying to do. Make a potful of money?"

HUTCH: But you'll get the extra gate, and you know, you haven't been drawing too well at home lately."

MUZZ: "Listen. I'm not talking playoffs 'till the league race is decided. But I'll tell you what I might do. If we meet the Cougars, how about playing in Victoria, Tuesday and Thursday, and at Tacoma Friday and Sunday. Then the Saturday night television shows won't hurt our gate."

Eagles Only Club To Master Cougars

HUTCH: "I don't care when we play you. All I want is the final three games here, if you're still around by that time."

MUZZ: "Listen to who's talking. Who was the last team to beat you on your home ice? And anyway there's no earthly chance of you playing us unless you fall down on the job. We're putting you in first place tonight and it's up to you to stay there. We'll take care of the Eagles, Saturday and Sunday."

HUTCH: "Wonder what Tony Hemmelling will have to say about this?"

MUZZ: "He should love it. Remember, the Eagles have been giving you fellows a rough time this year. Why you'll be lucky to reach the finals."

(Editor's note: Eagles hold 6-4-4 record against Cougars on season.)

HUTCH: "Tony will be crying no matter what happens. Maybe I should try and get him to play the extra three games here, too, if you uphold your end of the bargain."

MUZZ: "That should be okay with him. The Eagles like a big sheet. See you in the finals."

HUTCH: "Yeh, if we can take the Canucks and Seattle and you do your share."

MUZZ: "We will. Mark my words."

Remember The 1950 Finals?

Furtively slipping from his hiding-place, Operator 13 took immediate steps to attend the game at the Memorial Arena. With one eye on the contest between the Canucks and Cougars, and his good ear glued to a walkie talkie, he suddenly realized that Muzz wasn't kidding.

The Rockets had beaten Westminster and put the victorious Cougars in first place. With that he filed his report.

However, he added a postscript.

In brief the appendage disclosed that upon entering the Arena, he was accosted by Laurie Given of the Commercial Hockey League who apparently had seen through the disguise.

Under pressure, Laurie forced Operator 13 to admit that he knew the Commercial League playoffs were also starting next week (Monday) and already a special detachment of gendarmes had been secured for picket duty.

Having been a witness in the riotous 1950 finals between Co-ops and Navy, Operator 13 thought it only right that those desiring the more advantageous positions—the better to watch the incartate proceedings—be warned of the impending imbroglios.

"The extra price will be worth it," he scribbled. "And remember most of these guys work for a living, like me."

Vic High Golds Take Inter-High Cage Title

Vic High Golds Wednesday captured the Hamilton Smith Trophy and the girls' inter-high school basketball championship by defeating Blacks, 33 to 31.

Boyd with 15 points and Wright with 14 paced the winners. Viola Yetman sparked the losers with nine.

Vic High Unable To Master Oak Bay Hex

There were many doubtful moments, but when the final whistle blew, Oak Bay High walked off the Fernwood Road field with the first game of the best-of-three Howard Russell Cup series tucked safely under their belts, 8 to 5.

Vic High fought all the way, trying to end the Bays' seven-year victory streak, but were unable to get enough three-line runs under way.

The game was hardly started when Vic High's Don Burgess dribbled the ball over the line and fell on it. He also added the conversion to give Vics a 5 to 0 lead.

Oak Bay then started a vengeful drive that could not be stopped, only delayed. Vic High used kicks and luck to hold the opposition off for 10 minutes before scrum half Gary Webster crossed the line after a five-yard scrum.

Dick-Pollard made the conversion to tie the score at 5 to 5, and so it remained till half time.

GOOD BOOT

Oak Bay started the second half with another drive which was rewarded when Pollard just parted the posts on a penalty kick, for the winning points.

The home team drove back the Bays but were held off. They had one chance to tie the score with a penalty kick but the ball missed pay dirt by a foot.

With three minutes left to play Vic High reached the Bays' five-yard line. Then came five successive five-yard scrums as both teams gave it all they had. Neither one lost a foot.

Finally just before the whistle blew Oak Bay cleared the ball from the scrum to end Vic High's hopes.

Gary Pynn was outstanding on Vic High's three-line the few times he had the ball, and Walt Young and Johnny Johnson made some nice runs for Oak Bay.

Second game of the series will be played at Windsor Park Monday at 4.

NEW WELTER KING DEFENDS TITLE IN MAY

Bratton Scores Sensational Win

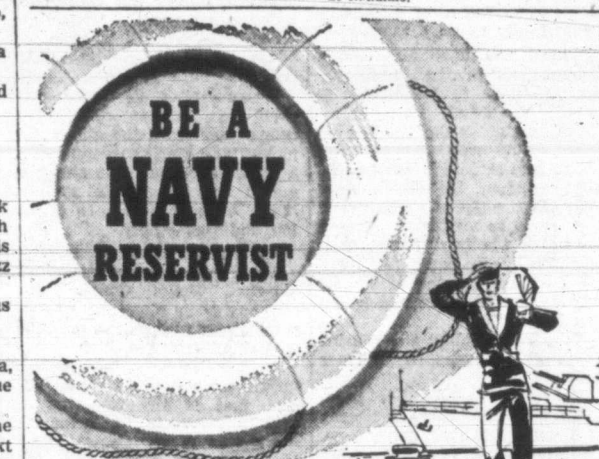

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Boxing Association's new welterweight champion, Cinderella Kid Johnny Bratton, has a tentative May 4 date to defend his title against Cuba's Kid Gavilan at New York's Madison Square Garden.

But it will be a long time before Bratton forgets the bloody 15-round battle with game-to-the-core Charlie Fusari which gave him Sugar Ray Robinson's vacated crown at Chicago Stadium last night.

A sparse stadium crowd of 6,954 and millions who viewed it on television saw Bratton gain a split decision over Fusari in a thriller which easily matched Robinson's dramatic dethroning of middleweight champion Jake LaMotta exactly one month ago in the same ring.

The fight appeared finished when Bratton, a cute clipper who fights in spurts, whistled a right that knocked Fusari flat on his back in the 10th round. But Fusari rolled over, clutched the referee's shirt and hauled himself to his feet at the count of nine.

Although Bratton plainly ran out of gas after flooring Fusari in the fourth round for a four count and almost ending the fight in the 10th, it was a great night for the 23-year-old Chicago negro.

'HAPPY' NOT SO HAPPY; SAID TO BLAME MULBRY

By LEO H. PETERSEN

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Lame duck baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler blames Walter Mulbry for the loss of his job and is determined to see that Mulbry gets the sack, too, the United Press learned today.

Mulbry is the secretary-treasurer of baseball, the No. 2 man in the commissioner's office.

And, the United Press learned, Chandler intends to do something about it. He has demanded an investigation of Mulbry's appointment to the Major League Advisory Board and he has demanded that Mulbry be fired as secretary-treasurer on grounds of "disloyalty."

Chandler even has a man lined up to take Mulbry's place. Roger Douless, a publicity man for Pan-American Airways in Washington, D.C., who directed Chandler's re-election campaign, is his choice.

Chandler is said to claim that his opponents never could have mustered enough votes to lick him without Mulbry's help.

Only RCA VICTOR gives you ALL 3 at their very best!

BECAUSE Only RCA VICTOR gives you a separate "45" automatic player

With the "45" you say goodbye to old "spindle-seeking" and "one-at-a-time" loading. Pick up a stack of records in 2 fingers, drop them on the big centre spindle with your eyes shut. Press a button and the show's on. It's the modern way to play records—and only a "45" player can give you ALL "45" advantages.

BECAUSE Only RCA VICTOR gives you a second automatic changer exclusively for "33 1/3" and "78" records

No training course needed! No take-out, lay-aside, get-lost gadgets—no confusion! You make far fewer adjustments than with any 3-speeds-in-one mechanism. Just set it for the speed you want, load it up—and relax. It's fully automatic.

No other

Radio-Phono can play ALL records so perfectly, so simply, so easily

Watch your dealer demonstrate all three speeds of records on the new RCA Victor. See how easy it is to operate the separate "45" changer. A turn of a switch changes the play from the "45" to the "78" — "33 1/3" turntable. Here at last is a truly inviting way to enjoy your own choice of records of any and every speed.

Quebec House Prorogues Budget Set New Record

Alberta Law Chief Asks Authority For Police To Tap Phone Wires To Check State Offences

By CANADIAN PRESS

The Quebec Legislature Wednesday ended a brisk eight-week session to become the first provincial House to complete its 1951 session.

Laws passed during the session authorized new hydro-electric power projects, financial expenditure for an increased circuit of winter highways and increased credits for farm loans and housing assistance.

Also approved was a record budget calling for expenditure of $236,726,000 during the fiscal year starting April 1. A surplus of $1,044,100 was forecast.

There was no sign of prorogation in the legislatures of the other nine provinces.

At St. John's, Nfld., Ronald J. Fahey (P.C., Harbour Main, Bell Island) accused Premier Smallwood's Liberal government with failing to keep election promises. Mr. Fahey, speaking in the Throne Speech debate, said the Liberals had promised that the cost of living would go down, that there would be no extra taxes, and that Ottawa would keep buying Newfoundland fish indefinitely. None of these promises, he said, had materialized.

The Throne Speech debate also continued in the Legislature of Canada's other island province, Prince Edward Island.

At Fredericton, Opposition Leader Hugh Mackay said New

Brunswick's Crown lands are being operated at a loss, and suggested that pulp and paper companies in the province be compelled to pay higher stumpage. Increased royalties for Nova Scotia coal was urged in the Legislature at Halifax by James E. Rutledge (L., Halifax Centre). Premier MacDonald has already told the House that the situation would be studied anew but that "the government is bound by agreements in the matter."

Civil defence problems occupied the Ontario Legislature. At Winnipeg, Works Minister William Morton said Manitoba will carry on with its 1951 highway construction program, which includes additional work on the Trans-Canada Highway.

Attorney-General Lucien Maynard told the Alberta Legislature that police should be given authority to tap telephone conversations only where offences against the state are suspected. He gave treason as an example.

POLECAT HITS HIGH MARK IN POPULARITY

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Pete, the personality polecat, has his admirers standing in line.

No movie star was ever so popular as Pete. The City Animal shelter says it received 750 calls Wednesday from persons who want to adopt this three-year-old civet. He's odorless—and of course that helps—but he's an unusually friendly creature, and the animal shelter says the 750 calls constitute a record.

The previous record was 250 calls. It was established by a skunk, too. The shelter once received 100 calls for an alligator.

Dogs? The telephone seldom rings for a dog.

$11 Million For P.G.E. Asked In Loan Bill

Following up the budget speech he made in the Legislature the day before, Finance Minister Herbert Anscombe introduced four bills in the House Wednesday to increase the province's borrowing power of $43,000,000.

The P.G.E. Construction Act of 1928 is amended in one to provide $11,000,000 for extension of the railway from Squamish to North Vancouver.

A $12,000,000 loan bill will provide funds for construction of public buildings, U.B.C. buildings and purchase of road building machinery.

An amendment to the Electric Power Act allows the B.C. Power Commission to increase its maximum debt from $45,000,000 to $60,000,000.

A $5,000,000 loan bill makes available the government's share of school construction costs in the coming year.

Also a bill was introduced allowing appropriation of $3,000,000 from revenue surplus to meet hospital insurance deficit, sinking fund shortages and to pay for road paving.

Information On Germ Warfare

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Defence Administration wants to head off public panic over fear of germ warfare attack, real or rumored. It started circulating today a pamphlet on "What You Should Know About Biological Warfare." The booklet is a companion piece to the previously published official pamphlet "Survival Under Atomic Attack."

Hope Aids Youth Club

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bob Hope said today he will turn over his salary for a two-week London engagement to a youth club blitzed during the war. Sources close to the comedian said the amount may exceed $40,000.

"Between you and me, Letty—if I could I'd move out with you! But I can't get away till my boat sails. So do that hair of yours and let's be practical about your plans."

Letty picked up the comb and turned to the mirror again, seeing the reflection of Amelia's pensive face over her shoulder.

"How much money have you, Letty?"

"Very little. Just over 12 shillings."

"Then I'm not only going to help you find somewhere to live—but something to live on. It's a good idea of yours to speak to Mr. Cridge. He's a fine man—and I fancy good will come of it. But I want you to know that if you really get into a fix you're to come straight back to Amelia Murray..."

"But—"

"And no 'buts' either. My mother left me a little legacy, in my own name. It isn't much, but even with my expenses to the Far East I really needn't use all of it..."

Letty swung round from the dressing table, her eyes full again. "Amelia! I'll try to do—serve that... but I must earn my own living—and I will earn it."

"Then for goodness sake dry those eyes—Mama doesn't know it, but even I have a box of face powder upstairs. And another thing. There's no need to run away this very morning. We'll drive quietly over to Mr. Cridge this afternoon—and see what he has to say about it."

"Young Roper's lost his sextant again. A certain party's going to be mighty pleased when he hears that little piece of news."

H.M.S. Termanant possessed only a small wardrobe, and the desultory chatter died down in it—to add considerably to the discomfort of the freckle-faced junior officer whose missing sextant was the cause of all the trouble.

"And this time, as always," called a bearded paymaster lieutenant setting down his grog, a little too briskly "this time he'll blame it on the Indians."

"And you know what he'll say!" began another, and commenced a brief impersonation.

"A Haida war canoe chime stealthily alongside in the dead of night..."

"Under the noses of the guns," put in Lieutenant Twining.

"And a painted savage, naked as the day he was born, crept into Roper's cabin and soundlessly stole the thing, box and all, while the innocent boy slept on!"

"If something's missing," mused the paymaster, "blame the Indians. If something's missing..."

"Thank you."

"Give our love to the old boy," muttered the paymaster, "and for Pete's sake take that mask off your face. Ever since you came aboard you've looked fit to knife the lot of us."

Braid paused long enough to laugh at his own solemnity. "Sorry!" he said simply, and started for the door.

Between the wardroom and the admiral's cabin a far greater gulf existed than the few yards that separated them. For once Braid had passed into his senior officer's presence he was in a considerably more important world, breathing a considerably more rarified air.

"You sent for me, sir?" Braid asked.

Burgess Bedtime Story

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

The Elephant has a handy nose; The Snake has few but handy toes; The Squirrel has a handy tail; The Possum has a handy tail.

Farmer Brown's boy, making his first visit to the Land-of-always-summer, had seen a few, very few, feathered folks of his acquaintance, birds who made their homes in summer around his own home, but came down here each winter. He had seen some whom, as he put it, he "almost knew" because he knew they were related to some whom he did know. And he had seen many total strangers, birds of whom he knew nothing, not even their names. But so far he had seen no folks in fur, either big or little, except a cousin of Nibbler back home, and some cousins of Flitter the Bat. These were flying about in the gloomy shade of cocoa trees where it was quite dark even in the middle of the day. They wouldn't stay still even for an instant, so he couldn't tell to which branch of the Bat family they belonged.

He missed Peter Rabbit, Johnny Chuck, Happy Jack Squirrel, Reddy Fox, Lightfoot the Deer, Bobby Coon and other friends of the Green Forest. It seemed odd not to see any of these or any signs that they were about. At first he hadn't missed them because there were so many other things new to him to be seen. But after a while he began really to miss them.

"Don't you have any of the animal folk in the jungle just as we have in the woods up home?" he asked.

"Of course we do," replied his friend, who was showing him about in the jungle just as he used to show his city cousins about in the Green Forest when they came to visit him. "There are some wholly different from any who live up north, and there are southern cousins of several who do live up there and whom you know."

"Has Peter Rabbit any cousins living here?" asked Farmer Brown's boy.

The other shook his head. "No," said he. "There are none of Peter's relatives down here, excepting some that folks keep for pets. They seem to do all right, so why there are no wild Rabbits in the jungle I don't know. I used to think that perhaps it is too hot for them here."

Farmer Brown's boy shook his head vigorously. "I don't think that," said he. "No, sir, I don't think that. I've known it to be hotter up home, a lot hotter than it has been since I have been down here. Perhaps there isn't the right kind of food. Or perhaps Old Mother Nature just decided that Rabbits are not needed around here. I don't suppose there are any Squirrels either."

"That's where you're wrong Tommy," replied the other. Farmer Brown's boy is named Tommy. "We do have squirrels."

Claim Empire Endangered If Princess Visits Pope

LONDON (AP)—The National Union of Protestants claims it would be "dangerous to the safety of the British Empire" if Princess Elizabeth were to visit the Pope when she goes to Rome in the spring.

About 60 of the 20,000 union members in Britain attended the meeting which passed a resolution expressing grief at newspaper reports the heiress to the throne might call on the Pope.

"The union believes that it is unconstitutional for a prospective British monarch to have an audience with the Pope, and it is dangerous to the safety of the British Empire," the resolution said.

Pats Revel In Relief From Front Line Action

Maj. Tighe Of Victoria Prepares Campsite For Troops To Relax, Catch Up With Wash

WEST CENTRAL SECTOR, Korea (CP)—The battle was far away and life was grand for the Patrias Wednesday.

They pulled out of the line Tuesday and rested near the scenes of their recent action. It was their first chance to relax from hill-climbing, rugged living and soldiering since they left their training camp at Miryang.

Troop-carrying vehicles transported the men to a large river-side campsite prepared by Maj. Henry Tighe of Victoria, their second-in-command.

The men were given 48 hours of life on their own—they didn't even have to report themselves present. Everybody slept in on Wednesday, using sleeping bags for a change. Breakfast was virtually forgotten.

Then the great wash began. The men stripped to bathe in the stream, their first bath in weeks. The forests of beard growth were shaved and locks grown shaggy in weeks away from a barber dropped in a bales. Wednesday night they had a turkey dinner and free beer, followed by an open-air movie.

Life was grand—the men even enjoyed light music piped through the camp over an amplifier system rigged up by Lieut. Bill Campbell of Calgary, welfare officer.

The easy time will last until Friday morning when Lt. Col. J. R. Stone, commanding officer, has decreed training will resume so the troops will remain fit until they are next called on for line duty. It is expected the battalion will have sufficient training to keep their leg muscles supple and shooting eyes sharp with the rest of the time devoted to sports, relaxation, re-equipping and mulling over lessons learned in action.

The Island Arts and Crafts Society general meeting Friday at 8 in the Royal Bank Building, Cook and Fort, will discuss "The History of the Island Arts and Crafts Society." This is the oldest art society in British Columbia and nearly every artist resident in Victoria has belonged to it.

POSTMAN BUSY IN ST. PATRICK

ST. PATRICK, Mo. (AP)—The post office in this tiny village in northeastern Missouri is busy these days.

The reason is the flood of St. Patrick's Day greetings sent from various parts of the world to get the St. Patrick cancellation mark.

Rev. Francis O'Duignan, Irish-born Roman Catholic priest, has put the women of his parish to work stamping a special green St. Patrick cachet on letters sent to him for remailing.

The cachet carries a shamrock and the message: "St. Patrick, the only one in the world."

Parkinson, 23, said he had temporarily deserted 19-year-old June Clews "because I just couldn't face the ordeal of a big church wedding."

Parkinson and his fiancée, who has forgiven him, will be married shortly at a private ceremony attended only by close relatives.

Television Guest Sues For $10,000 Damages

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Cohens invited their neighbor, Miss Ida R. Block, over to watch television. While leaving the darkened apartment, Miss Block contended, she tripped over a rolled-up rug and fell, breaking her wrist. So yesterday she filed a suit against Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cohen for $10,000 in damages.

budget speech debate in the House yesterday but he didn't swing very hard at the province's financial statement thrown the day before by Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb.

He chose, instead, to make some hefty cuts at Mr. Anscomb himself, and he may have made a few hits there.

In his swings at Anscomb the C.C.F. team captain hit a line drive over which there was some dispute as to whether it was fair or foul.

It was on the Finance Minister's pitch that Baker when he became custodian of the purse in 1947 the province had its first balanced budget in years—"And when I say balanced budget, I mean just that; we actually made a profit on operations based on proper accounting and business principles."

Winch described that one as a real curve ball, curved around the Liberals of the Legislature of the day, and more particularly the Minister of Finance whom Anscomb had succeeded — John Hart.

"Seems to me," he growled, "there's no sense of decency or loyalty there. He infers that Mr. Hart never had a balanced budget, and that he failed to use sound accounting and business principles in his work."

No wonder the Coalition was shaky with team spirit so obviously lacking.

"The Slugger" may have scored again when he referred to Mr. Anscomb's review of business conditions in which he said the Korean war had wiped out signs of recession and brought production in this country back to a good level.

"That," said Winch, "is the most damning indictment of capitalism the leader of the Conservative Party could make."

LET'S NOT BE "RAILROADED"!

The P.G.E. Railway belongs to the Province of British Columbia. In other words, it's your railway and anything concerning the P.G.E. is of vital interest to taxpayers in every section of the Province.

Currently under discussion in the Legislature is an expenditure of more millions for a southern rail extension of the P.G.E.

There is strong evidence and expert opinion to the effect that this is economically unsound. No facts to the contrary have been made available.

Many urgent projects await Government expenditures in every section of the Province. Before more millions are spent on what appears to be a completely uneconomic program, the public is entitled to know the reason why.

IT IS THEREFORE SUGGESTED THAT AN IMPARTIAL BODY BE SET UP TO THOROUGHLY INVESTIGATE AND REPORT ON THE ECONOMIC SOUNDNESS OF THE P.G.E. SOUTHERN EXTENSION PROGRAM.

In the belief that this question is of vital concern to the whole Province, we have prepared a brief on the problem. You are invited to obtain a copy free by writing to the Municipal Hall, West Vancouver, B.C.

Hint U.S. May Drop Idea Of Forcing Korean Issue

New York Times Says Unification May Be Left To Political Jockeying Over Years

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times today quoted unnamed United Nations diplomats as saying that the idea of unifying Korea by military victory throughout the country is being quietly dropped.

The Times said in a newspaper story the United States is reported to be considering the position that the U.N. military job will end somewhere around the 38th Parallel and that the next task, unification, will depend on political jockeying which may last a long time.

The newspaper said an actual announcement of the reported new position is unlikely. The reason was said to be that such an announcement would amount to a gift of information to the Chinese Communists.

SEES BRIDAL GOWN

But First, Princess Has To Escape From Elevator

LONDON (AP)—The elevator doors wouldn't open, so Princess Margaret was locked in the lift for five minutes today. She was gay about it.

It happened at Olympia, the big hall at which an Ideal Home exhibit is being held. Margaret was being taken down from the second to the ground floor. That's where the gates and the elevator refused to budge.

COW KILLING CAUSES RIOTS

BOMBAY (AP)—Operators in the Bombay bullion exchange suspended business Tuesday in sympathy with orthodox Hindu agitation against cow slaughter in Bombay state. A riot near the Ahmedabad slaughter house Sunday brought the arrest of 64 agitators. More than 30,000 workers in 19 of the city's textile mills went on strike in support of anti-slaughter demands today, defying a police ban on gatherings of more than five persons.

'Losing Friends And Making Enemies,' Says Winch, Of Coalition Government

Opposition Leader Harold Winch thinks the Coalition government has 'deliberately set out to lose friends and make enemies.'

He said in the Legislature Wednesday, when opening debate on the budget speech of Finance Minister Anscomb delivered Tuesday, that the government was insulting the people of the province.

First there was the lack of action on the dozens of requests the labor population had made for changes in the I.C. and A. Act.

Next there was the suggestion that had been made from time to time that the people were sabotaging hospital insurance.

Then there were the "patronizing airs" of the Finance Minister to municipalities receiving assistance from the province.

Finally there was the "sneering cynicism" of Mr. Anscomb to many citizens in the lowlier walks of life when he said: "We in Canada are diametrically opposed to a system which assumes that any individual, merely because he lives, no matter how stupid, shiftless, or improvident he may be, shall have the right to share equally in the bounty created by another."

The Opposition Leader scorned Mr. Anscomb's talk of "dead-wood debt" when referring to investments the province had made in schools and social services, and said no better investment could be made than the spending of money to educate the children.

FISH SUCCUMB TO 'RED TIDE'

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—The "red tide" which killed millions of fish along the lower Florida west coast four years ago has been reported again. This time near the lower gulf coast of Mexico. Scientists said the "tide" is a host of tiny organisms which choke fish to death by using up all the oxygen.

Canada Teachers Ask Federal Aid

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Teachers' Federation Wednesday called for federal aid to correct inequities in the Canadian school system.

In a 15-page brochure, the federation urged that Ottawa pay the provinces a per-pupil grant to improve school standards. At present, some provinces could not afford to spend as much on education as others and rural districts were unable to spend as much as cities.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Some Must Gain Weight;
Here's The Way You Do It

I am apt to neglect you underweight women because the cries of the overweighters are so much louder. I suppose this is true.

Want to gain weight? Learn to relax and take short rest periods.

because overweight is actually so uncomfortable and also makes clothes buying so much more difficult. Yet many women are acutely aware of lack of curves and are just as unhappy because of a flat bust as their fatter sisters are because of a 40-inch hipline.

Recently so very many letters have come from women and girls who wish to gain weight that today I am going to review some of the rules for obtaining natural padding.

1. Slow down. Relax more. Stop rushing. Do not hurry. Do not worry. Take life easier. Stop being tense. Take short rest periods during the day whenever that is possible.

2. You simply must have lots of sleep. This must be the rule, the late hour exception.

3. Eat five smaller meals rather than three big ones.

4. Be sure that your diet is vitamin rich. Even though fresh fruits and vegetables do not have many calories they are full of vitamins and vitamin deficiency is one reason for underweight.

5. Take mild exercises. Walking swimming and deep breathing exercises are especially good. You can also take a leg and bust developing exercises. These are mild and will put the curves where you want them.

6. Drink a quart of milk a day and add some cream to the whole milk.

7. Take vitamin B complex capsules. Ask your doctor how many.

8. If possible lie down in a room alone and completely relax—eyes closed, for 15 minutes before meals, especially before your largest meal.

Faithful adherence to these rules will put the pounds on you. Of course I am taking for granted the idea that you have had a recent physical examination to prove that you have no systemic or organic trouble which might cause your underweight.

If you would like to have my Nine-Day Gaining Diet send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 41 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

SALMON CURRY AU GRATIN

One lb. can of salmon, 1 cup rice, 3 tbs. butter, 2 tbs. flour, 1 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. dry mustard, 1/2 tsp. curry powder, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1/4 lb. sharp cheese, grated.

Wash the rice and cook in rapidly boiling water for 15 minutes. Drain and wash off excess starch. Melt the butter and stir in the flour and seasonings; add the milk, the liquid and oil from the salmon, and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Grate the cheese and save out three tablespoons for the top; combine the rest with the sauce, rice and the salmon (flaked). Turn into a medium-sized oiled casserole and sprinkle the remaining cheese on the top. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 45 minutes. Six to eight servings.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

Correspondent Says We Are Cooking
With Gas, Since He (Or She)
Took Us Apart Some Time Ago

Dear Mary Haworth: I am busy as the dickens and owe everyone a letter; yet I am taking time out to tell you that your column is worth reading by those who have no problems but are interested in people.

My personal friends who read the column regularly, also some of my relatives who live in this region, have been mentioning the change that has come over you, in advising those who write to you for guidance. They say how sarcastic, and needlessly so, you used to be. And they say how you have developed a new attitude—one of kindly interest. These friends say they used to resent your advice, and couldn't understand how anyone could be helped in solving their problems, by the sharp lectures you gave those poor souls who wrote asking your help.

Mary Haworth

Do you know what I told them? I said I too had read your earlier columns, as often as I could stomach them; and then one day, on behalf of the frustrated souls who depend upon your written counsel, I wrote to you and gave you unshirred hell. I told you off in no uncertain terms; said you were missing the boat. I never did such a thing before; but I put "my all" into what I wrote you; and your column has been swell ever since. Mary, you are cooking on gas now, right on the front burner.

COMIC INCONGRUITY
IN THIS TESTIMONY

Dear H. C.: Thank you very much for the forthright display of reader-interest, past and present. And I hope you won't mind if I point out certain comic incongruity in your published reflections.

1. On the one hand, in times past you felt greatly opposed to what struck you as a biting edge of needless severity that once characterized my expository writing. It left you cold. You would have been completely resistant to views thus packaged. Neither you nor many of your associates—relatives and friends—could understand how anyone could derive insight, strength or a saving sense of direction from the sharp talks I gave (you say) to the poor souls who wrote this column in other years.

COLUMN READERS
ARE CHANGED TOO

But speaking of a change in the quality of these articles, you aren't the first to mention it. Comment to that effect has been drifting in for the last couple of years. Following is a typical excerpt from such mail: "Intermittently for years I have been reading your column. Several years ago I observed that there was somewhat of a change in its quality. It seems to me that your perception has greatly broadened and deepened, spiritually, in recent years. It is wonderful to 'see and feel' that increase of spiritual quality. I thought you might like to know that someone has noticed..."

Victoria Order Is Ready
For Part In Civil Defence

OTTAWA (CP) — The Victorian Order of Nurses has forwarded a letter to Health Minister Martin assuring him of V.O.N. support in Canada's civil defence program.

"There is a staff of 529 nurses in strategic positions to take in such programs at the community level," said the letter. "Equally as important, the Victorian Order represents a strong citizen group in each locality."

It continued: "This combined group of nurses and citizens are widely distributed across Canada in 110 leading cities and towns from Victoria to Sydney, serving a population of 4,600,485..."

"In the event of the evacuation of hospitals within a target area patients will be discharged to their own homes. It might well be that in caring for these people the V.O.N. will be called upon to make their greatest contribution."

Tzinquaw Baby Gives Flowers

A gala first night was accorded initial presentation of "Tzinquaw," a musical dramatization of an ancient Cowichan Indian legend, by Cowichan Indian players, at Royal Theatre last night. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Clarence Wallace, under whose distinguished patronage the opera is being presented, attended the opening night performance accompanied by Lt.-Col. R. L. Mitchell and Miss Ruth MacLean. As they entered the foyer of the theatre, little Donna Joe, smallest member of the cast, presented Mrs. Wallace with a bouquet of flowers and received a warm smile of thanks from the chatelaine of Government House.

Among the hundreds of first nighters were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. G. Mann, right, and Mrs. C. E. Moore. Mr. Mann is a past lieutenant-governor of Kiwanis. The play is being presented in this city under auspices of the Victoria Kiwanis Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Beverley Smith, left, and Mrs. T. G. Clarke were among Oak Bay Kiwanians who attended the play. Mr. Clarke was also a member of this party.

Mr. R. H. Snape and Mrs. R. D. Snape, both of Victoria, have recently signed the visitors' book in British Columbia House, Regent Street, London, Eng. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Taylor of Sidney, V.I., have also been recent visitors in London.

Victorian Returns On Brief Visit Describes Her New Life In Holland

"Canadians are welcomed any time in Holland and can go anywhere," say Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Elias, who have made The Hague their home for the past three years.

"And not because they played such an important part in the liberation of Western Holland," the couple were quick to add, "but because the Canadian forces behaved so well."

Daughter of Mrs. M. J. Henderson of this city, and late Stewart Henderson, famed criminal lawyer, Mrs. Elias expressed delight in returning to her home but was also quick to tell of her love for Holland.

"Now the country is rebuilding, repairing its roads and bridges, and erecting modern homes. Holland is a wonderful place in which to live," she said. "Shops are filled with goods, both local and imported, and our only rationed food is coffee."

"Prices are high as they are in any country," added the attractive visitor, "but you can employ help as reasonably as $15 to $20 a month, if they live in."

MANY BICYCLES

Animatedly Mrs. Elias told of the bicycles in Holland.

"There are over 4,000,000 bicycles in the country and they all seem to be in the same place at the rush hour. There is even greater confusion now with the introduction of motorized bicycles."

"It would do no good to complain of the traffic for the judge and policeman probably own bicycles of their own," she laughed.

In comparing Canadian way of life for women with that of Holland, Mrs. Elias remarked that washing machines, peculiarly enough, were to be found in homes of working men but not in richer homes.

"Because in these homes there is help to do the work," she said.

Mrs. E. P. Elias, the former Ena Henderson, is proudly showing her husband her home city for the first time. "And he thinks it is beautiful," she tells you. They are here on holiday from Holland.

Mrs. Elias explained that she met her husband in San Francisco during the war when she was working for the Netherlands navy.

"My husband was a lieutenant-commander with that navy and following the war we were married and traveled to Holland and The Hague, where he is now a textile importer."

Because his business takes him away from home a great deal Mrs. Elias accompanies him on many trips.

"In fact," she said, "I have traveled to Brussels and England with him and to Paris 15 times!"

At this point in the conversation Mr. Elias interrupted to talk about a short drive he had taken around Victoria and of his admiration for our homes.

"The housing in our country is a problem," he said. "It seems the population increases faster than the housing."

As an example of housing conditions, his wife explained that a married couple is allowed but two rooms, a living-room and a bedroom. They share use of kitchen and bathroom.

"We have been very fortunate, though," she added. "We have a duplex type of home with a complete unit to ourselves."

Mr. and Mrs. Elias compared Victoria with The Hague in that it is a residential city with many beautiful parks and government buildings.

Before journeying on to San Francisco, New York and returning to the Dutch home by plane, the couple will enjoy another 10 days in the city at the Empress Hotel.

Diocesan Bd. Raised $9,162 Through Work Of Branches

Highlight of yesterday afternoon's session of the 47th annual meeting, British Columbia Diocesan Board, Woman's Auxiliary, Church of England in Canada, at Memorial Hall was report of treasurer, Mrs. S. G. Wilson, who stated $9,162.96 had been raised, of which $9,162.96 had been contributed by the branches to parish funds.

Voting on balance of various funds during the afternoon recess.

Youth Group Reports Heard, Bursary Given

Diocesan officers' reports continued at yesterday morning session of the 47th annual meeting, B.C. Diocesan Board, Anglican Women's Auxiliary, included Little Helpers' secretary, Mrs. E. J. Harris, who announced seven new branches formed during the year making the total 43 branches with 2,270 members. Contribution were $582.

Mrs. P. G. Raven, juniors' secretary, said total receipts were $323.80 of which $60 was spent in parishes. Junior groups with total of 218 members sent 25 pounds of articles to Japan for kindergarten use, she said.

Girls' secretary report was given by Mrs. F. A. Goodwin and Rev. C. D. Kewell spoke on the Oriental question in connection with Good Hope Mission. He paid tribute to Miss Dorothy Mitchell in connection with this work and declared he was in favor of having Canadian Chinese amalgamated with the churches.

Two hundred dollars was used for a bursary last year and $200 for additional expenses was added, Lady Lake said in reporting on fund for the Theological College in Vancouver. There are 27 students at the college.

At the morning meeting, $200 was voted for a voice recording machine for the college.

Rev. F. E. M. Tomalin reported on diocesan board religious education.

Mrs. N. J. Godkin took opening prayers and greetings from women's organizations in other churches was given by Mrs. Perry, United Church; Mrs. H. Warren, Presbyterian, and Mrs. J. Ingram Smith, Baptist.

A life members' conference was held during the luncheon recess.

Mrs. F. Kerby, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kerby, Mr. and Mrs. H. Smith and Mr. R. Smith were among the out-of-town guests at the marriage of Miss Patricia Sheilagh Gibbs to Herbert H. Abbott at St. John's Anglican Church.

Miss Muriel Jay Honored

A miscellaneous shower, to honor Miss Muriel Jay, whose marriage takes place this month, was given recently when Miss Muriel Lee entertained at her Balfour Avenue home. On arrival the honor guest was presented with a corsage bouquet of white iris and roses. Her mother, Mrs. S. Jay, received white and yellow iris en corsage. Miss Jay found many beautiful gifts in a decorated wedding bell. Refreshments were served from a table set with lace cloth and artistic centerpiece of daffodils, miniature birds and lighted candles. Guests were Mesdames D. F. Lee, E. Lee, E. Spiller, Misses Rose Lee, Verpa Lee, Sylvia Lee, Beverly Eng, Mona Hoy, Eleanor Marr, Eugenia Marr, Susan Lang, Rose Hong, Alice Hong, Esther Kong, Virginia Jay, Hedy Bartling, Violet Lim, Mary Chow, Isabel Lee, Myra Bradshaw and Lorna Hoy.

Party For Bride-Elect

Misses Pamela Paine and Glenda Shepherd, at the home of the latter, 44 Oswego Street, were co-hostesses last evening at a surprise miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Marie Cummins whose marriage takes place next week. The honor guest received a corsage bouquet of pink roses, and her mother, Mrs. P. Cummins, was presented with pink carnations en corsage. Gifts were concealed in a decorated pink and white umbrella. Games were played and refreshments served from lace-covered table set with a bowl of daffodils. Guests were Mesdames C. Fletcher, E. Ellwell, H. Byron, B. Waring, R. Hines, J. Fletcher, Misses D. Cummins, J. Fisher, D. Buckingham, F. Boone, M. Parker and A. George.

Have you heard the secret?

it's the Cheddar Cheese in the sauce

Libby's SPAGHETTI
WITH TOMATO SAUCE AND CHEESE

No ordinary cheese, this, but a rare old Canadian cheddar. It gives Libby's spaghetti sauce a sparkle and tang that no other spaghetti has. Next time, ask for Libby's Spaghetti. Taste the difference yourself. Serve Libby's often because it's so downright delicious... so economical... so quick and easy to prepare. Ask your grocer for the spaghetti with the cheddar cheese, Libby's Spaghetti.

'Little Man' Worst Hit By New Curbs

By HARRY YOUNG Times Business Editor

Ottawa's tightening of credit controls caught the majority of local business folk a bit off balance yesterday. Rightly or wrongly, most of them had been assuming that the original restrictions imposed in October would be maintained.

That they did not have much justification for such a belief, might be judged best from their own activities. Only in isolated cases have the credit curbs made any great difference to the spending of the public as a whole.

Ottawa obviously had to do something more, and severe though the new order is, some financial companies feel that it may not yet solve the inflation problem.

The local manager of a finance corporation said to me today, "The new order hits only at the little man who never has much in the bank at any time. The people with means will still be able to buy more or less what they want. The only control that will stop their spending is actual shortage of goods."

The manager did not indicate any method of stopping those with bank balances from gobbling too greedily at the market. The most spectacular of the new curbs is on the automobile industry. The down payment is increased from one-third to one-half and the repayment period is cut from 18 to 12 months.

R. R. Wilson, who handles the biggest selling Canadian car, considers that the federal government has taken this step to match the cut back in car production.

"The plans of our manufacturing company for 1951 are that production will be at 100 per cent for the first quarter; 65 per cent for the second quarter; 65 per cent for the third quarter and 50 per cent for the fourth quarter," he explained. "The government's new credit restrictions are aimed to cut down the demand for the restricted supply."

Mr. Wilson, however, indicated that the 50 per cent down payment would not affect the average purchaser of a new car. "Most of these people," he says, "are trading in second-hand cars with a more than 50 per cent cash value of their new model."

Canadian Metal Output Raised

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian production of silver, lead and zinc showed substantial gains in 1950.

Output of primary silver during the year totalled 22,386,456 fine ounces against 17,641,493 in 1949. Lead output was 166,766 tons against 159,775 and production of zinc totalled 312,585 tons against 288,262.

Exports of refined silver in 1950 amounted to 8,355,183 fine ounces compared with 6,211,912 in 1949, and silver in ores and concentrates 3,494,107 fine ounces compared with 4,054,614.

The year's exports of lead in pigs totalled 115,167 tons against 113,533 in 1949, and lead in ore, 19,276 tons against 18,991. Zinc smelter exports during the year amounted to 146,880 tons against 168,307, and zinc in ore, 129,561 tons against 106,684.

Spruce Falls Boosts Paper Production

KAPUSKATING, Ont. (CP) — A $5,000,000 project that will boost newspaper production by more than 12,000 tons a year is announced by C. H. Sage, president of the Spruce Falls Paper and Paper Company Ltd.

The project was described as a major follow-up to a long-term expansion program started in this northern Ontario town in 1947. It involves rebuilding of the three remaining paper machines and general mill and plant modernization.

COMPANY NEWS

Waite Amulet Profits Lower

Earnings of Waite Amulet Mines were reduced from 1.56 per share in 1949 to $1.02 in 1950. The net profit was $3,373,326 against the previous year's $5,137,938.

Fiscal Year Changed

The engineering firm of John Inglis Ltd. of Toronto earned 67 cents in the last nine months of 1950, and made a profit of $223,225. These figures compare with earnings of 75 cents per share, and profits of $251,018 for the previous 12 months. The change in fiscal year is being made to bring the company in line with its British associates, and the earnings on a monthly basis show an improvement on the previous year.

Earnings Higher

A slight increase in earnings and profit was made in 1950 by Fanny Farmer Ltd. Profit was $961,122 against $948,586, while earnings per common share were $2.81 against $2.77.

Telephone Figures

Annual report of Quebec Telephone shows that the working capital was increased from $10,579 to $636,972 in 1950, and the net profit of the company was $155,919 against $100,964 in 1949.

Forestry Laws Need Revision

Calling for important changes in both federal and provincial laws governing forestry, W. J. Van Dusen told the annual meeting of the B.C. Lumber Manufacturers' Association, "changes in our present forest laws are absolutely necessary to provide security of tenure to attract long-term investments in forest properties, costly integrated conversion units for close utilization and adoption of logging methods which will ensure regeneration."

"In British Columbia drastic adjustments in tax laws, both federal and provincial, together with largely increased federal and provincial appropriations for fire protection, silviculture and research, are imperative if forestry is to be placed on a practical basis," he said.

New Finance Chief

Arthur H. Reid, who for 18 years has been vice-president and general manager, was this week elected president of the Household Finance Corporation of Canada. New vice-president is A. W. Bruce. B. E. Henderson, previous president of the Canadian company becomes chairman of the board, a position he already held with the parent company.

Industrials Fall Flat In Toronto Trading

TORONTO (CP) — Prices declined in quiet trading. Industrials, paced by papers and steels, were the biggest losers. Issues down $1 or more included Consumers Gas, Cockshutt, Steel of Canada, Page-Hervey, Traders Finance, Bank of Nova Scotia, Aluminum and Ford.

Base metals eased over a broad front with small declines. Key issues lower included International Nickel, Normetal, Pend Ore, Quemet, Steep Rock, United Keno Hill and Waite Amulet.

Western oil: drifted quietly downward and golds weakened with little trading.

Celanese Lower

MONTREAL (CP) — Securities continued their downward trend. Trading was quiet.

The market eased in mid-contrast to yesterday's closing steadiness and losses ranged from small fractions to more than two points.

In the industrial section, losses held a fair margin over gains, while papers and utilities were slightly easier. Beverages, banks, carriers and senior oils all were generally lower. Senior metals were unchanged to a trifling extent.

Featured losers were Canadian Celanese, down 1 1/2 to 58, and Canada Cement down 1 1/2 to 61.

Mines were hesitant under a moderate demand while western oils were mainly steady. Changes were mostly pennies and there were no features.

Undecided About Women

OTTAWA (CP) — Defence Minister Claxton indicated in the Commons today that the government still has not decided on whether women will be recruited by the armed forces.

He said that "question of when and the conditions under which women may serve in the active and reserve forces is still receiving consideration."

The minister was answering a question by Arthur Laing (L. Vancouver South).

Shaye Cogan, New Find, 'Small Hutton Edition'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—David O. Selznick might have discovered Valli, Jennifer Jones, Ingrid Bergman and Louis Jourdan, but Bud Abbott and Lou Costello are crowding about Shaye Cogan, the April 1951, who makes her movie debut with them in "The Real McCoy."

Shaye, a smaller edition of Betty Hutton, listened shyly while Costello told me how he had first spotted her at New York's Copacabana as a singer and then signed her after watching her on his TV screen on the Vaughn Monroe show.

Lou predicts she'll be a big star. "Actresses always do well after they work with us," he says. "Take Marjorie Main. She was a sick woman with five doctors when she made 'The Wistful Widow from Wagon Gap' with us. When the picture was over, she only had two doctors."

If Errol Flynn can dash off novels between pictures, so can David Niven.

He's just finished correcting galley proofs on his first book, "Round the Rugged Rocks," and is at work on his second—a rib-tickler tagged "Murgatroyd."

Sight that may drive 'em back to their TV sets: Marjorie Main taking a bubble bath for a scene in "The Law and Lady Lovelady," in which she plays the richest woman in San Francisco.

Esther Williams is floating on air instead of on water for a change over her new movie, "Texas Carnival."

It's the film's director, Chuck Walters, who's put M.G.M.'s prize mermaid in such a happy mood that she's even laughing over Fanny Brice's crack about her, "Wet she's a star. Dry she isn't."

Duncan Indian Legend Thrills City Audience

By EUGENE M. JOHNSON

Wednesday night at the Royal Theatre provided Victorians with an interesting and unusual experience in entertainment. The opening performance of "Tzinquaw," a musical dramatization of the Cowichan Indian legends of the Thunderbird and the Killer-whale, was enthusiastically received by a capacity audience.

The event revealed outstanding talent, ability and a wealth of material among the Indian population. The cast and dancers were entirely Indian, and much of the musical notation and research was done by the tenor soloist, Abel John.

Frank Morrison, who is responsible for the piano interpretation and English lyrics, has made an excellent job of capturing the spirit and feeling of this legend. A scene of continuing interest and depth of emotion is the result of this creation. Every member of the cast was sincere in his effort to bring about this effect.

It must be emphasized that the whole work is the product of the Indians themselves. Credit for conceiving the drama goes to Abel John. The outstanding scenery and lighting is the work of Cecil West, director and producer.

Layne, Matthews Match Is Sought

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Promoter William P. Kyne said today he had offered heavyweight Rex Layne of Utah and Harry (Kid) Matthews of Seattle $15,000 each to meet in a San Francisco battle April 27.

Layne and Matthews are rated as two of the outstanding heavyweight contenders in the nation.

mothers and grandmothers told them who I was."

The pair reminisced about making "Seventh Heaven." Its filming took about six months, which would be unheard of now. Despite its fame, it was not particularly successful at the box office. Many of their other films—they made about a dozen together—made more money.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Today's hand first saw the light of day in a team-of-four matches. As often happens in team matches, the game was made in one room, but defeated in the other.

In the first room, West cashed the top clubs and then shifted to hearts. Dummy won with the king of hearts and led a trump. East played the six, and South played the king. West won with the ace of spades and led another heart. Dummy won with the ace of hearts and declarer immediately laid down dummy's queen of spades.

Declarer's reasoning was very simple. He decided that the six of spades was not a false card. Hence East either had no more spades or only the jack. If East had no more spades, the contract was unmakeable. If East had only the jack left, it was vital to trap it under the queen at once. Hence in this room declarer made his contract.

In the second room the play went the same way at the start. West cashed the clubs and led a heart. Declarer then led a spade from dummy. East followed with the six, and South played the king. In this room, however, West dropped the deuce of spades without any apparent thought.

The declarer in the second room naturally assumed that the ace of spades was in East's hand. Hence he returned the ten of spades from his own hand, and let it ride as a finesse against the jack. Of course, this was taken by East's jack of trumps, after which West's ace of trumps furnished the setting trick.

In this room it was West's reasoning that was very simple. He knew that four tricks were needed to defeat the contract. He had already taken two clubs and could count on the ace of trumps as a third sure trick. His partner could not have a heart trick and it was most unlikely he had a diamond trick. It was therefore essential to try for a second trump trick, and the method West chose was more likely to succeed than any other.

A—Bid two no-trump. You have stoppers in the unbid suits and your total strength is slightly more than that of an opening bid of one no-trump. That is the general requirement for a jump rebid in no-trump.

Resume Hunt For Spanish Treasure

TOBERMORY, Scotland (Reuters)—New attempts will be made here next month to wrest from the Atlantic floor the secrets of the $100,000,000 Spanish treasure galleon Duque De Florencia.

Divers last summer found an ancient hulk at the bottom of Tobermory's Island Bay. It may be the wreck of an armada ship—sunk 350 years ago after fleeing from Sir Francis Drake and the English fleet.

The man with the biggest stake in the new salvage effort is the Duke of Argyll, 47-year-old Scottish peer whose family has long owned the bay where salvage operations were carried out last year by the navy.

"We hope to get going again at Tobermory in about a month," he says.

Air Vice-Marshal Henry Thompson, the duke's associate in the salvage venture, is at present in the United States on business. An announcement about a starting date for salvage operations is expected when he returns.

Last year's salvage operations yielded silver medallions, a stone cannon ball and other relics strengthening the belief that the craft buried under the waters of the bay is indeed the Florencia.

But whether her reputed hoard of gold plate, doubloon ducats and pieces of eight still remains on board has yet to be established.

The Spaniards blew the ship up after trouble with local chieftain, Maclean of Duart. Some of the sturdy islanders apparently feel that successive generations of Macleans must have gone to considerable lengths to test the story of the treasure.

Island skeptics say they have seen more money poured into Tobermory Harbor in the search than will ever come out of it.

They were temporarily silenced last year when the navy, with up-to-date scientific equipment, produced new evidence of the galleon after a grim struggle against giant natural forces 60 feet under the bay's surface.

LATIN-AMERICAN RHYTHMS OF CBC TUNED OUT BY VANDALS

TORONTO (CP)—Richard Glums, producer of CBC's half-hour broadcast, Latin American Serenade, was glum today. His program Wednesday night had to be replaced with recorded music, "due to conditions beyond our control."

The reason: A person, or persons, sneaked into the CBC concert studio here and smashed $2,000 worth of the band's instruments.

Police were of the opinion a group of youngsters got into the studio through a back entrance while the band and other show members were absent, and ran wild.
